"Uphold our spirits urged to kindred flight On wings that fear no glance of God's pure sight, No tempest from his breath, their promised rest Seeking with indefatigable quest Above a world that seems itself most wise When most enslaved by gross realities."

We do not believe that the fact that the National Geographic Society announces that Commander Byrd attained the North Pole will for one moment shake the confidence of the public in his great achievement.

The Prince of Wales has a rival for the throne!—Prince Henry measures 5 feet 7 1/2 in the mud, and takes the prize.

The Near-East, the Far-East, California, and now Germany, are shaken—when old Mother Earth turns over in her sleep the whole world sits up.

"Bumpy-thump! Thumpy-bump! Houses and palaces all in a lump!"

"What would you rather do or go a-fishing?" It seems that the porcelain-lined lake at White Pine Camp has aroused the long-dormant piscatorial ambitions of the President.

"O, the gallant fisher's life, Is the best of any; 'Tis full of pleasure, void of strife, And is beloved my many."

We'll become more interested in the League of Nations' scheme to improve the Solar System when it shall have accomplished a few beneficent changes for this world.

The West and North saved the Union, and after the war they stood together politically, and the West took the pensions and the North the Protective Tariff, and this alliance pretty generally prevailed until the election of Wilson in 1912 showed that whenever the agricultural West and the agricultural South wanted to join hands they could run the country. The defeat of the farmers in the Senate brings the Fordney-McCumber law to the parting of the ways.

When President Coolidge rushed out and assumed the leadership of the Farm Bill parade how could he tell that it was going to turn down a side street?

Secretary Jardine reports that there are 7,000,000 dogs in the country, not including his pet hound that the Senate boys kept kicking around yesterday.

One gathers that the mysterious Mr. Z has the softest job in the world when in his capacity as sneaker and snooper for the W. C. T. U. he can buy liquor for himself in his capacity of bootlegger. The old-fashioned panhandler who used to "work both sides of the street" would have starved to death in these progressive times.

Or as the old-fashioned minstrel would say, Mr. Z "doubled in brass."

Premier Baldwin under fire admits the truth of Labor's charge that he had committed the crime of investing his money in British industry! "He is an Englishman! For he himself has said it, And it's greatly to his credit That he is an Englishman."

It's all very fine for the committee to investigate alleged coal profiteering last winter, but what's the Senate doing about next winter?

Senator Nye pictures his deadly rival in one of those famous $ suits that the cartoonists back in '98 used to reserve for members of the well-known Hanna family.

SENATE BEATS FARM CREDIT BILL BACKED BY PRESIDENT, 54-28

Votes to Punish Anyone Trying to Influence Tariff Board.

COOPERATIVE SELLING DIVISION IS APPROVED

Fess Amendment Subjected to Sharp Criticism; Party Lines Split.

By ALBERT W. FOX. President Coolidge's appeal to the Senate to adopt the Fess farm relief bill—the only direct appeal for constructive legislation the President has ever made publicly in a controversial matter—was repelled yesterday when the Senate smothered the Fess bill by a vote of 54 to 28.

Republican lines split, with the farm bloc opposing the President's wishes and all but three Democrats voted against the bill. Those who predicted a close vote were amazed at the outcome.

The Senate then proceeded to discuss and vote down pending amendments to the House bill and, after an evening session, finally adopted the House bill without a roll call. This so-called cooperative marketing measure established a cooperative marketing division in the Agriculture Department for which an appropriation of $225,000 is authorized. As the House has passed this bill and the administration approves it, all it requires now to become a law is the President's signature.

Administration senators say that a careful reading of this bill will show that it contains important provisions for effective farm relief.

For the Fess bill: Republicans—Butler, Capper, Curtis, Dale, Deneen, Edge, Ernst, Fess, Gillett, Goff, Hale, Harrell, Jones of Washington, Metcalf, Moses, Sackett, Shortridge, Stanford, Wadsworth, Warren, Weller, Williams, Willis—23.

Democrats—George, Harris, Neely—3. Total—26.

Opponents of Plan. Against the bill: Republicans—Bingham, Borah, Cameron, Couzens, Cummins, Fernald, Gooding, Howell, Johnson, LaFollette, McMaster, McNary, Norbeck, Norris, Oddie, Pepper, Pine, Reed of Pennsylvania, Robinson of Indiana, Schall, Shipstead, Watson—21.

Democrats—Ashhurst, Bayard, Bleasdale, Bratton, Broussard, Bruce, Caraway, Copeland, Dill, Edwards, Gerry, Glass, Heflin, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, King, McKellar, Mayfield, Overman, Pittman, Reed of Missouri, Robinson of Arkansas, Sheppard, Simmons, Stock, Stephens, Swanson, Trammell, Tyson, Underwood, Walsh, Wheeler—32.

Farm-Labor—Shipstead—1. Total—54.

Pairs were as follows: DuPont (aye)-Fletcher, Means (aye)-Smith, Lenroot (aye)-Harrison, Keyes (aye)-Ferris, McLean (aye)-Nye, and Randall (aye)-Frazier.

Senators Smoot, Greene and Phipps were absent and were without pairs.

After this vote, an amendment by Senator Howell was discussed by that senator and then beaten, 55 to 22.

Senator Moses, at this point, got the floor and moved that all pending amendments be referred to the committee on agriculture. This brought dissent and Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, moved to table the motion. The motion was tabled by the close vote of 40-38. Senators Cummins, Gooding, Johnson, Jones of Washington, McNary, Norris and Stanford were the Republican senators voting with the Democratic leader to table the Moses motion.

Export Fund Beaten. An amendment by Senator Robinson, providing for a $200,000,000 fund to assist the export corporation and foreign buyers was beaten, 51-28. Senator Jones, of Washington, the Republican whip, was the only Republican senator to vote on the Democratic side in this instance.

Senator Robinson then offered another amendment which provided for an investigation by the tariff board of difference between American and foreign prices.

Dyer Holds Fenning Clear Of Many Blanton Charges

Subcommittee to Act Today on Report Proposed by Chairman—Conspiracy and Barratry Accusations Held Refuted, Others Unproven.

Commissioner Frederick A. Fenning is exonerated of many of the charges preferred against him by Representative Blanton, of Texas, in the digest prepared by Representative Dyer, of Missouri, chairman of the House Judiciary committee, which held hearings in the case, it was learned yesterday. The subcommittee is scheduled to meet today, with a view to meeting with the full committee tomorrow.

Reports that yesterday's session of the full committee was to have to do with Mr. Fenning went away when the committee passed the day considering the longshoremen's bill.

Taking up Representative Blanton's counts one by one, Mr. Dyer completely exonerates the commissioner on a number of them, noting that others were "unproven," while on others he made references as to where the other members may find the full testimony bearing on them.

At the outset he holds Mr. Fenning is not an impeachable officer, and of the exonerations he gave him one covers the charge that Mr. Fenning engaged in a "conspiracy" with Dr. W. A. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeths hospital.

Mr. Fenning is exonerated also of the charges of "barratry and cham-petry" as well as charges that he discharged certain officials for his own selfish purposes. These charges turned on the dismissals of Dr. Floyd McJ. Allen, police and fire surgeon; the retirement of Sgt. Robert E. Lee and Dr. Edward Comstock Wilson, school medical inspector.

The demotion of Capt. A. J. Headley did not constitute any of Mr. Blanton's charges, so Mr. Dyer made no comment on the testimony introduced in connection with it.

Mr. Dyer also acquits the commissioner of having violated the law prohibiting Federal officials from prosecuting claims against the government, as well as that prescribing that no person shall charge a veteran more than $10 for assisting him in getting his claim from the veterans' bureau.

Whether Mr. Dyer's report, especially his nature of dealing with the case, will be accepted by the subcommittee remains to be determined at today's meeting. It is understood to be Mr. Dyer's idea of the report it should make to the full committee, leaving the full committee to determine the question of basing a report on the general picture as it did in the English case.

Mr. Blanton, in presenting his case, paid no attention to the

American Finance Agent Says He Can Not Take Money From Poor Nation.

Budapest, Hungary, June 29 (By A. P.).—Jeremiah Smith, American economist, who recently completed his work of reorganizing Hungary's finances, today presented his salary of $100,000 for his two years' work to the Hungarian people.

The Boston financial expert told Chancellor Bethlen that the friendship and appreciation of the Hungarian people were all that he wished for his services.

When Mr. Smith called on Premier Bethlen today to take final leave, Count Bethlen handed him a check for $100,000, representing two years' salary as league supervisor of Hungary's finances.

"Give it to charity," said the American lawyer as he handed the check back to the astonished prime minister. "Your poor need it more than I do."

"But it is your compensation for your two years' service to us," argued Count Bethlen.

"The only compensation I desire for my work is the appreciation and friendship of the Hungarian people," answered Mr. Smith, who, although by no means wealthy, felt that he could not conscientiously accept even his salary from a people in so straitened circumstances.

"But the vouchers have already been issued by the state and their entry can not be altered in the treasury books," persisted Count Bethlen.

CARL LAEMMLE SENT TO LONDON SURGEONS

Producer Is Suffering From Appendicitis; Rushed Off Ship at Southampton.

London, June 29 (By A. P.).—Carl Laemmle, American film producer, who was stricken with appendicitis aboard the steamship Sprengar several days out from New York, reached London tonight and was taken in an ambulance to a nursing home. There was a consultation of surgeons and physicians immediately to determine whether an operation was advisable.

His secretary informed the Associated Press late tonight that the physicians aboard the ship considered Mr. Laemmle's condition serious, but not necessarily alarming.

London, Wednesday, June 30 (By A. P.).—The Daily Express says that Carl Laemmle, who is suffering from appendicitis, underwent an operation late last night. This has not been confirmed.

ITALY ADDS AN HOUR TO ITS WORKING DAY AND CUTS LUXURIES

Sweeping Fascist Order Designed to Balance Nation's Trade.

BUILDING OF HOUSES FOR RICH FORBIDDEN

Drive Opens for Homes for Poor; No New Cafes; Papers Restricted.

Rome, June 29 (By A. P.).—The long-heralded fascist campaign for improvement of the financial situation and balancing of the international trade standing of Italy opened tonight with the issuance of an unusually drastic series of decrees.

Virtually every phase of commercial activity is touched by the orders, which are designed to strengthen the lire and to cut down on the trade balance, which last year showed a deficit of 8,000,000,000 lire. Authorization is granted for the increase in the length of the laborer's working day by one hour, luxuries of various kinds are restricted, efforts to aid the laboring class are suggested and utilization of Italy's natural products is encouraged.

Most Important Decrees. The most important of the decrees which are intended to stimulate production and to institute a regime of strictest economy are as follows:

1. Authorization for the increase of the working day by one hour. 2. Restriction of daily newspapers to six pages, and the prohibition of all special supplements excepting technical ones. 3. Prohibition of the opening of new bars, cafes, hotels, cabarets, pastry shops and night dancing resorts.

4. Prohibition of the construction of private houses and villas of a luxurious type. The only new construction permitted is of cheap houses for workers, farm laborers, and small-salaried employees, farm houses or cooperative apartments representing the direct investment of small private savings. Special governmental aid is given for the building of cheap houses for employees of large industrial establishments.

Cheap Food and Fuel. 5. Announcement that agreements have been reached for the reduction in price, without hurting the quality, of iron, cements, bricks and plaster.

6. Announcement that steps have been taken to help large em-

Bird Chews Matches; Fires House and Dies

Chicago, June 29.—A poll parrot, chewing matches, was responsible for a fire which today destroyed the House of Niles, a widely-known roadhouse at Niles, Ill. The bird paid for his act with his life, being suffocated by the smoke. A dozen persons, sleeping in the place, were overcome and had to be carried out by firemen and early arrivals.

The House of Niles was a 2-story frame structure, surrounded by great parking sheds and many small buildings, and was noted for years.

20,000 VOTE STRIKE IN CLOAK INDUSTRY

Decision Against Contract of Governor's Board Is Unanimous.

New York, June 29 (By A. P.).—More than 20,000 members of the New York Cloak & Dressmakers' union and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, voted unanimously today at a mass meeting to go on strike, the date for which probably will be decided at a meeting called for tomorrow night.

Today's meeting was called to determine whether the workers would ratify the action of the joint board of the unions, which rejected the recommendations made by the governor's garment industry commission as the basis for a new contract.

The unions objected to the commission's recommendations that the employers be given the right to reorganize their shops by not more than 10 per cent each year. The workers also asked a 40-hour week and guarantees of 36 weeks of work each year.

Aldershot, England, June 29 (By A. P.).—Prince Henry, third son of King George, was thrown from his horse in a jumping competition here today. A dog frightened his mount, which reared and threw the prince. Henry fell on his back, but jumped up immediately and proclaimed himself unharmed.

Later, he gained the reserve prize in the class for officers' hunters.

Advisory Council Favors Investigation Into Local Affairs by Congressional Body.

ZIHLMAN PRAISES WORK

The citizens' advisory council last evening voluntarily considered the concurrent resolution introduced by Ernest W. Gibson, and now pending in Congress, for a sweeping investigation of the District government by a joint committee of House and Senate during the summer recess. The council unanimously indorsed the proposed inquiry.

No committee of Congress had referred the resolution to the council, which met last night to begin consideration of the 1926 departmental estimates of the District. The estimates had not been submitted, and the council had nothing before it. Harry N. Stull, recorder, brought up the Gibson concurrent resolution.

"This measure, if passed," will provide for the broadest kind of an inquiry," he said. "Not only methods of conducting District business but the form of the District government will be considered. There may result an amendment to the Constitution to provide another kind of a commission. The question of fiscal relations between the District and Federal governments may be canvassed. It looks to me like an excellent opportunity for an investigation of many things that have not yet been touched upon."

Men and Girl Had Fought Storm Since Sunday Without Food.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 29 (By A. P.).—Two men and a girl nearly exhausted from hunger were rescued by coast guards during a storm on Lake Erie late today in a 35-foot sailing boat in which they had been afloat since Sunday.

Two deaths today were attributed to heat and storms. At Warren a boy was drowned and a man was killed at Toledo when struck by lightning. Heavy property damage was reported in northwestern Ohio.

The disabled sailing vessel weathered a storm Sunday night and got within a half mile of shore this afternoon, when it was sighted. The boat was stolen last Saturday and found the next day some miles from Cleveland. The three went to sail it back, but were caught in rough weather with no food aboard.

4 CALIFORNIA CITIES SHAKEN BY QUAKES; DAMAGE IS CAUSED

Child at Santa Barbara Killed on Anniversary of Disaster There.

BUILDINGS CRACKED; WINDOWS SMASHED

More Than 130 Lose Lives in Sumatra Tremor; 3 Shocks Are Recorded Here.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 29 (By A. P.).—A light earthquake was felt along the southern California coast, from Santa Barbara southward, late today on the anniversary of the temblor that last year wrecked the business district of Santa Barbara.

A 3-year-old child was crushed to death beneath a toppling chimney at Santa Barbara, where the shock apparently was the heaviest. The child, Colin Orr, was playing with other children at a home on Bath street when killed. None of the other children was injured. The chimney is the only one known to have fallen.

A street car was thrown from the tracks near the beach at Santa Barbara, while several telephones were disconnected.

Several plate glass windows were broken at Santa Barbara, and cracks in several buildings that had been repaired since last year were reopened.

Surf Violently Disturbed.

The surf was violently disturbed for a brief period. Surrounding towns—Santa Paula, Ventura and Oxnard—also were jarred by the temblor, but no material damage was reported.

The shock extended southward along the coast, apparently ending in the vicinity of Long Beach, and was felt only a few miles inland.

In the Los Angeles area, dishes were rattled and electric light fixtures swayed. At the weather bureau two pendulum clocks were stopped by the temblor at 3:22 p. m. In some localities, among them Pasadena, two shocks were felt. Santa Monica, a beach town, reported a second light tremor shortly after 7 o'clock tonight.

No serious damage at any point in the zone of the earth disturbance had been reported tonight.

Wires Are "Tangled Up"

Southern California Telephone Co. officials said that some wires had been "tangled up" in the vicinity of Santa Barbara.

The shock swung doors at Pasadena, swayed hanging electric light drops at Santa Monica, and was felt in Los Angeles, where occupants of office buildings noticed their chairs doing a mild shimmy along the floor.

The time of the temblor in Los Angeles was 3:22 p. m.

Ventura, 29 miles south of Santa Barbara, felt the temblor distinctly and reported two separate shocks lasting about four or five seconds.

San Bernardino, east of here, and Calexico, in the Imperial valley, both missed the earth movement.

Destruction in Sumatra.

Padang, Sumatra, June 29 (By A. P.).—More than 100 persons were killed and almost all the buildings at Pandjangan were destroyed in the earthquake which occurred in central Sumatra yesterday. One European, who was killed while trying to save a child, was among the victims.

Seventeen persons were killed at Soengelboeloe and fifteen at Solok. The latter place was severely stricken.

London, June 29 (By A. P.).—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Cape Town reports that a slight earthquake occurred this morning at Salisbury, south Rhodesia. The quake lasted only five seconds and caused no serious damage.

Rhine Region Terrorized. (Special Cable Dispatch.) Berlin, June 29.—On the heels of the recent floods, the Rhine region has experienced the terror of an earthquake. At 11 o'clock last night, the inhabitants of various towns and villages in Baden, particularly in the Freiburg district and around Lake Constance, were awakened by violent shocks. In panic they fled to the streets, to the accompaniment of falling chimney pots, smashed windows. At Breisach

AUTO TAG LETTERING WITH ONLY 4 DIGITS URGED FOR DISTRICT

Director Eldridge and Wade H. Coombs Lay Plan Before Commissioners.

NO SERIAL NUMBER
HIGHER THAN 9,999

Types of Commercial Cars Would Be Designated on License Plates.

M. O. Eldridge, director of traffic, and Wade H. Coombs, superintendent of licenses, yesterday recommended to the District commissioners that next year's automobile license tags be changed in style to eliminate numbers of more than four digits.

Under the proposed plan the tags would be issued in series, the number preceded by a letter. Thus the first number issued, instead of being 1, would be A1. No series will be numbered higher than 9,999.

Letters to Indicate Type.

Some of the letters would have special significance. When numbers are preceded by the letter B it would indicate that the vehicles are light delivery trucks, carrying less than 2,500 pounds; C would indicate commercial vehicles, heavier trucks; H would be for hackers' licenses; L would designate livery cars; and X would be reserved for nonresident cars.

The theory of the change is that shorter numbers, preceded by letters, are easier to remember than six-digit, or even five-digit, numbers. It is estimated that the cost would be no greater and that policing of traffic would be facilitated.

Connecticut started the plan four years ago, Director Eldridge said, since which time it has been copied by other States, including New York, New Jersey and Colorado.

Commissioners Favor Plan.

Commissioners Bell and Rudolph favor the plan, it is said, but Commissioner Pennington referred it to the police department for an opinion, hence the question of changing the style of the tags was not decided yesterday.

Tags for 1927 will be lettered in chrome yellow on a black background. Proposals for their manufacture will be solicited shortly, bids to be opened around August 1. Approximately 100,000 tags will be bought.

Man Takes Poison In Suicide Attempt

Leon Wellons, 23 years old, 827 Fifth street northwest, attempted to end his life in a poolroom at 612 Ninth street northwest last night by swallowing twelve poison tablets, according to police. He was taken to Emergency hospital, but fought the doctors and nurses who were trying to save his life so vigorously that he was removed to Gallinger hospital. His condition is critical.

Wellons, together with his wife and Leroy Williams, of Cottage City, Md., are awaiting action of the grand jury on charges of blackmail, preferred June 20 by Edna Gray, colored, 430 Rhode Island avenue northwest. Since his arrest Wellons has been despondent, according to his friends.

Policeman's Victim Dies From Injuries

James Watson, colored, 48 years old, 1012 Wittingham street northwest, who was shot three times by Policeman Matthew Chymko, of the Eleventh precinct, when he attacked the policeman with a razor in the Suburban gardens, colored amusement park on the Benning road northeast, June 23, died last night in Freedmen's hospital.

Chymko, colored, arrested Daniel Watkins, colored, 1118 Wittingham street northeast, and was taking him from the park when Watson attacked the policeman and slashed him on the face, head and neck with a razor, according to police. Chymko drew his revolver and shot five times at Watson as he was fleeing from the park. Watson was arrested a few hours later at his home and was taken to Freedmen's hospital. Chymko will recover.

DESPOUND VETERAN ENDS LIFE AT HOSPITAL

Man Fractures Skull in Jump
From Balcony at the Soldiers Home.

HAD BEEN ILL 3 YEARS

Despondent because of ill health, Corp. Edward Farrell, 55 years old, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, the Mexican border expedition and the world war, jumped from the third floor balcony of the United States Soldiers Home hospital, fracturing his skull. Despairing of recovery, he died soon afterward. Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt issued a certificate of suicide.

Farrell, who was born in Dubuque, Iowa, has been a patient at the hospital for three years. He was suffering from a number of ailments and a wound in his knee. It is believed that he was unable to stand the thought of continued illness for the rest of his life, and became mentally unbalanced. He was not married, and the only relative recorded at the hospital is his cousin in Iowa, who is given as his next of kin. The cousin has been notified of the corporal's death.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Soldiers Home chapel. Interment will be in the Soldiers Home cemetery, which is a national cemetery, with full military honors.

$1,100,000 DAMAGES CLAIMED IN 7 SUITS

Mary A. Ruthven Names District Heads and Others, Alleging False Arrest.

Suits demanding damages of $1,100,000 were filed against Commissioners Rudolph and Bell and seven other individuals yesterday by Miss Mary A. Ruthven, a former patient of St. Elizabeth's hospital, now living at the East Cliff Terrace apartments. She was declared sane by a lunacy jury July 25, 1924, after she had been at St. Elizabeth's for a year. According to records in the case, she suffered from "delusions of persecution."

The suits, which were filed by Miss Ruthven in person, are not expected to remain upon the records very long because they do not conform to the rules of pleading. Once before Miss Ruthven filed a damage suit for $100,000 against a local hotel, charging false arrest and imprisonment. The defendants in the latest suit and the amount of damages asked from each follow:

Justice Adolph A. Hoehling, who presided at one of the lunacy hearings in Miss Ruthven's case, $100,000; United States Attorney Peyton Gordon, $100,000; Commissioners Bell and Rudolph, who signed commitment papers, $100,000 each; Lieut. Mina C. Van Winkle, whose policemen took Miss Ruthven into custody, $100,000. Dr. William A. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's hospital, $200,000; Dr. Percy Hickling, District alienist, $200,000; James J. O'Leary and John J. O'Brien, attorneys, sued jointly for $100,000.

Wife No. 2 Awarded Decree.

Mrs. Mary L. Tritapoe, wife No. 2 of Harry G. Tritapoe, was awarded a final decree of annulment yesterday by Chief Justice McCoy in equity court on the ground that Tritapoe already had a wife when he married the plaintiff, on November 10, 1923. Attorney George E. McNeil appeared for her.

COMMITTEE NAMES MISS SYBIL BAKER TO HEAD CENTERS

School Board Will Act on Nomination Tomorrow;
No Fight Likely.

CHOICE MADE OUTSIDE BODY TO AVOID FRICTION

Dr. Ballou and Graham Are Expected to Be Renamed to Offices.

Miss Sybil Baker, teacher of English and director of dramatic work in Central High school, has been selected by the personnel committee of the board of education for appointment as head of the community center department of the District public schools.

Miss Baker's appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Cecil Norton Broy as head of the department will be submitted to the full board of education at its first meeting of the new fiscal year tomorrow afternoon in Franklin school.

Miss Baker was chosen from among five leading candidates, including Mrs. L. B. Hardy, assistant director of the department; Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest, Mrs. A. J. Driscoll and Mrs. William Wolf Smith.

Hope to Avert Clash.

Decision of the board and school executives to select Miss Baker was influenced, it is said, by a determined fight by one or two of the leading candidates within the community center department to get the appointment. It was felt that selection of one or the other of the two leading candidates would cause such friction that the department would suffer in consequence and that it would be wiser to go outside the department itself to find a new head of the community centers.

Miss Baker is president of the High School Teachers' association, and was a teacher of English in Business High school in 1906 and served in that capacity until 1918 when she entered war service, returning to the schools the following year and going to Central as teacher of English.

She took up the direction of dramatic work in the school and developed her work in such a manner as to make her one of the leading candidates when consideration was given to the selection of a successor to Mrs. Broy.

Mrs. Hardy has many friends and supporters among school officials and members of the board of education and the selection of some one else to head the department was accompanied by many expressions of regret by them.

Others to Be Acted On.

The selection of Miss Baker must be approved formally by the full board of education before it is effective, but there is not expected to develop any determined fight over the matter at the meeting tomorrow. Several other important personnel matters are to be acted on by the board tomorrow.

Dr. Frank W. Ballou will be reappointed as superintendent of schools and E. C. Graham will be reelected as president of the board, according to a poll of members.

Mrs. William McNeill and Henry Gilligan will be sworn in as new members of the board. Vacancies to be filled include a director of drawing, several administration principals and positions in the normal schools.

Bids on the new "roll collar" cadet uniform, recently approved by the board, will be asked within a week and it is expected that the bidder will be chosen by the latter part of July. Cadets will be measured for the new regalia upon their return to schools in September.

Action on the sum asked by the board recently for school needs is expected to be taken by the District commissioners next week. Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of schools, announced yesterday.

Backing Auto Crushes Loot.

While standing on the steps of the V-W building of the government hotels yesterday, Louis Newton, colored, 45 years old, of 1315 Vermont avenue northwest, suffered a crushed foot when the tailgate of a truck driven by Lawrence Robinson, of 2023 Twelfth street northwest, backed to the steps to deliver merchandise.

Colored Catholics to Picnic.

The annual outing of colored Catholic churches and societies, under auspices of the Council Review, will be held this evening at the Suburban Gardens.

Woman Is Arrested As Hit-and-Run Driver

Charged with fleeing from the scene of an accident without making her identity known, Mrs. Cora L. Deers, 38 years old, 496 G street southwest, was arrested yesterday by police of the Fourth precinct. She was released under $300 bond. According to the police, Mrs. Deers was the driver of an automobile which struck a car driven by Headquarters Detective Charles Warfield, 1634 Massachusetts avenue southeast, at Sixth and H streets southwest yesterday.

Witnesses furnished police with the license number on the automobile which struck Warfield's car. Mrs. Anna Warfield, a passenger in her husband's car, was slightly injured. She refused hospital treatment. Her condition is not serious.

Woman Hit by Auto; Skull Is Fractured

Mrs. Daisy Orndorf, 42 years old, 321 C street northwest, is in Emergency hospital in a serious condition as result, police say, of having been struck yesterday in front of 220 Ninth street northwest by a street car.

Mrs. Orndorf was taken to the hospital in a passing automobile where she was found to have a fractured skull.

200 More Expected as Pupils Lists Threaten to Cause an Overflow.

INTERVIEWS ABOLISHED

The summer public schools will be filled to overflowing and many will be turned away, it was indicated yesterday by the total enrollment thus far. The courses will be opened July 6.

Registrations up to yesterday totaled: Senior high schools, 1,800; Junior high schools, 250, and grammar schools, 1,600. W. B. Patterson, director of the summer schools, said that he expected approximately 200 more registrants in each of the three divisions, and that an approximate number would be turned away.

In the past, Mr. Patterson said, students and parents of students in the senior high schools have been seeking interviews with the principal too often. This will be abashed this year to enable the principal to devote more time to her work in the school. Mrs. D. I. Hough will see parents and students on the Saturday preceding the opening day, and on the opening day, July 6, but not after those dates, Mr. Patterson said.

2 Men Hurt in Auto Crash, 1 Seriously

Two men were injured, one seriously, yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by another automobile which failed to stop on the Washington-Baltimore boulevard near Cottage City, Md. They were Ralph Spring, 26 years old, and G. C. Howe, both of Baltimore.

Spring is in Casualty hospital suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, possible internal injuries, and a broken jaw and nose. His condition is critical. Howe, who received bruises on the head, left the hospital last night. His condition is not serious. Howe was driving when an automobile going in the opposite direction struck the car, knocking it from the road. Both men were stunned and were not able to summon help for almost an hour.

Man, 70, Hit by Auto.

While crossing First street near B street northeast last night, Charles Mortenson, 70 years old, 415 Second street, was struck by an automobile driven, police say, by Walter Lawson, 225 Westminister street northwest. Lawson drove Mortenson to the Sixth precinct station, where he was treated by an ambulance surgeon from Casualty hospital for bruises on the body.

BANKER'S SON ACCUSED AS HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER

Charge of Intoxication Also

WILD CHASE IS RELATED

After two collisions yesterday in which he failed to stop, police say, James V. Trimble, Jr., 28 years old, son of the vice president of the National Bank of Washington, was arrested and taken to police court charged with driving while drunk and facing two charges of leaving after colliding. Trimble lives at 1814 Lamont street northwest.

According to police, Trimble was driving a heavy car which collided with an auto driven by Harry Sherby, of 946 Louisiana avenue northwest, on I street between Sixth and Seventh streets northeast and then failed to stop.

Policeman Edward M. Taylor, of the Ninth precinct, climbed into Sherby's car and gave chase. After a wild ride at a speed of approximately 50 miles an hour, the police say, Trimble headed for Bladensburg road.

While on this road he collided with a truck driven by William Patterson, colored, 48 years old, of 1413 Morris place northeast, knocking Patterson from the truck and slightly injuring his shoulder.

Again Trimble failed to stop, police say. He was captured when he turned his car into a blind alley.

When arraigned before Judge Macdonald, Trimble asked for a jury trial and bond of $1,100 was set. He was released when the bond was provided.

Woman, Unconscious From Gas, Is Saved

The life of Mrs. Laura Hanson, 53 years old, was saved yesterday by a roomer in her home, 406 Sixth street northwest, who found her unconscious from illuminating gas when he went to escort her to testify before the grand jury considering a charge against Park Policeman Vinson L. Murphy, who is said to have caused the death of Robert M. McCormack, 38 years old, when he struck him and knocked him down on the sidewalk.

McCormack died a short time later in Emergency hospital of a fractured skull. Both men were roomers in the house, and Mrs. Hanson testified before the coroner's jury that the dead man was drunk and the fight between the two had been caused by his knocking her down the stairs of her home. Mrs. Hanson's condition was said to be serious, but it is believed she will recover.

Woman Held Here For Boston Police

Charged with obtaining $3,000 by a fraudulent real estate transaction in Boston recently, Miss Mary Hill, 48 years old, fashionably dressed business woman, of Washington and Boston, was arrested last night at the Wardman Park hotel by Headquarters Detectives Edward Kelly and Arthur Scrivener. She is being held as a fugitive from justice from Boston.

The headquarters detectives with the warrant for Miss Hill's arrest waited at the hotel for several hours to arrest her. They saw her walking to the elevator with several friends, called her aside and showed her the warrant. She willingly accompanied them to headquarters.

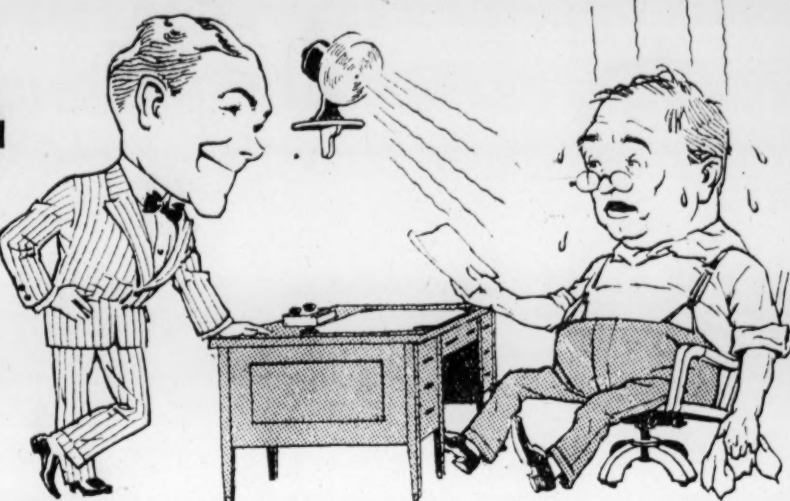

Autoist's Kneecaps Fractured in Crash

An automobile driven by John Bruzart, 40 years old, of 924 Ninth street northeast, yesterday collided with a street car at Florida avenue and Eckington place with such force, police say, that the engine of the car was driven into the body of the car, breaking Bruzart's kneecaps.

Bruzart, who is a mechanic employed at Corby's bakery, was taken to Sibley hospital. He also was cut on the left hand and arm.

Office Efficiency starts with a Cool Suit of Palm Beach

It is hard to believe the man exists who approves of all the modern office equipment—dictaphones, multigraphs, automatic typewriters, and the like—and then arrives at his office, with the thermometer registering 94, wearing a heavy woolen suit.

Washington business men know how to make the most of sweltering days in July and August—they wear Palm Beach suits—and sign contracts with a smile.

Remember, the words "Palm Beach" cover a multitude of suits—Parker-Bridget Palm Beach suits come in a great variety of patterns and are tailored to strict specifications.

FATHER IS ACCUSED OF KILLING GIRL, 22, A SMITH GRADUATE

Wallace C. Gaines Arrested at Seattle Two Weeks After the Murder.

DAUGHTER, ON A WALK, WAS BEATEN TO DEATH

Detective Captain Says He Still Is Seeking "Fiend" Who Killed Her.

Seattle, Wash., June 29 (By A. P.).—Wallace C. Gaines was arrested today, accused of beating and choking his daughter, Sylvia Howard Gaines, to death about an hour after she left his home for the night of June 16 for a solitary walk. He will be held without bail.

Louis Stern, a friend of Gaines, was arrested as a material witness.

Miss Gaines, 22 years old and a graduate last year of Smith college, Northampton, Mass., was the daughter of Gaines and Mrs. H. E. Maynard, Lynnfield, Mass. Gaines and Sylvia's mother separated sixteen years ago, and five years ago she married another woman. Last September Sylvia, having found her father through a search started by a clem in a newspaper, came here to live with him.

Badly Mutilated.
Miss Gaines' body was found badly mutilated two hours after she had left her home. She had been criminally assaulted.

Information filed by Prosecutor Colvin charged that Gaines, whose wife was about to return from San Francisco, after four months separation, "with premeditated design, did effect the death of Sylvia Gaines with a rock or some other instrument unknown."

Gaines, on the stand yesterday, in a coroner's inquest, which adjourned today when Colvin announced he was ready to arrest the father, admitted that he and Sylvia had a tiff over a proposed automobile.

Man Hurries to Prison To Escape a New Law

New York, June 29 (By A. P.).—Thomas J. Clougher was sentenced today for accepting "milk bribes" and his counsel threw away a chance of appeal in order to rush him to prison before a change in the law would reduce his "good behavior" time.

Clougher, once secretary to former Health Commissioner Frank J. Monaghan, was convicted of accepting bribes to permit illegal entrance of Western milk and cream to New York. He was sentenced to not less than five years nor more than ten in Sing Sing prison. His counsel applied for a two weeks' stay, but a few hours later the application was withdrawn.

By beginning to serve his sentence prior to July 1, it will be possible to have his sentence reduced 480 days. If he entered Sing Sing after July 1 the maximum amount of "time off" would be 300 days.

Previously, he had stated that he and his wife quarreled about Sylvia, but when Mrs. Gaines arrived from California, June 19, she said the quarrels were over his husband's drinking and that when she shot herself last winter she was nervous from trying to keep up with her husband in his potations so that he would not imbibe alone or go with others.

Admits He Was Drinking.

The father admitted at the inquest that he had been drinking the night Sylvia disappeared, as well as at other times, and told the jury that Sylvia, too, took wine and beer with her meals if she could get them.

After Gaines had been arrested by Sheriff Starwick, Charles Tennant, captain of the Seattle detective department, stated:

"All I have to say is that I am still looking for the fiend that killed Sylvia Gaines."
"I have been getting new evidence all the time of threats and admission that Wallace Gaines has made," Prosecutor Colvin said.

Asked what threats he meant, Colvin replied, "I can not and will not discuss my evidence at this time."
"The fact that this man served with me in the same regiment in France during the world war, that his brother is chairman of the board of King county commissioners, has not influenced me one particle."

Americans Divorced in Paris.

Paris, June 29 (By A. P.).—Mrs. Robert S. Hassler, formerly Miss Mary Cecilia Trautwine, was granted a divorce here today. The couple were married at Kansas City October 5, 1915. Mrs. Hassler declared her husband's treatment of her changed after they came to Paris and that she was obliged to leave him.

Violence Threats MADE IN COMMONS OVER MINERS' BILL

Baldwin Attacked as Owner of Many Shares in Big Iron Concern.

DAY AND NIGHT SESSION MARKED BY DISORDERS

Union Men Fight Act for Eight-Hour Day Instead of Seven, as at Present.

London, June 29 (By A. P.).—Premier Stanley Baldwin faced the house of commons in a new role tonight, when he fended himself against intimations that because he was the holder of many shares of stock in Baldwin's Limited (a big iron firm), he was personally interested in the side of the mine owners in the coal controversy.

There was a renewal of the uproar which marked the earlier proceedings in the house on the government's eight-hour bill for miners. Labor members shouted for Baldwin. "We want the prime minister!"

The speaker tried to calm the storm which broke over the head of W. C. Bridgman, first lord of the admiralty, who arose to reply on the debate for the government. The speaker appealed for fair play, but the voice of the Glasgow laborite, G. Buchanan, rose above the din. "The miners want fair play; the miners are getting hell!"

Baldwin's Right Challenged.

Then a labor member challenged the right of Stanley Baldwin to have a vote in a matter of this kind because he was holder of 200,000 shares in Baldwin's Limited. Cries of "Shame" came from the conservative and liberal benches.

The prime minister sprang to his feet. "The order of this debate," he declared, "has been arranged with full knowledge of the opposition parties, and that order has not been departed from."

Taking up the charge made against him, that he had dictated to the members of the royal commission what should be put in their report, he characterized it as an unqualified misrepresentation. Admitting that he held possession of the shares in question, he exclaimed, "It is absolutely true, and represents the bulk of what I have."

Permitted to Continue.

Then alluding to the fact that the statement had been first made in a newspaper by George Lansbury, labor member for Poplar, the premier continued: "What the statement failed to tell was that I had not taken advantage of the war here."

There were ironic labor cheers and angry conservative protests, until several laborites shouted: "Hear what he has to say."
The house became silent and Mr. Baldwin went on: "Had I taken advantage of the war I might today have been a wealthy man, with my money in government securities, or abroad, and Mr. Lansbury would never have known about it. All my life I have consistently refused to invest my money abroad. I have always been, for good or evil, in British industry. It is for that that I am being attacked tonight."

Drowned in Cheers.

The close of the premier's speech was drowned in cheers. Mr. Bridgman made several vain attempt to speak after the prime minister, but always was shouted down.

New York Besmirched By Visitors, Mayor Says

New York, June 29 (By A. P.).—Mayor Walker is weary of out-of-towners besmirching the big city's reputation.

He gave this today as his reason for insisting upon a 3 a. m. curfew ordinance for night clubs. People from all over the world patronize the places affected by the order, he said, and then go away to criticize the conditions they enjoyed.

"There's no other city in the United States where citizens stay in night clubs until 3 o'clock in the morning," the mayor told the "Dusk-to-Dawn Club" representatives. "They come to New York to do that sort of thing. And then they go home and tell every one they meet what a wicked place New York is."

The mayor turned his thumbs down on a plea that the clubs and cabarets be granted the same privileges as lodges. The meeting then adjourned.

There were ironical labor cheers and angry conservative protests, until several laborites shouted: "Hear what he has to say."

The house became silent and Mr. Baldwin went on: "Had I taken advantage of the war I might today have been a wealthy man, with my money in government securities, or abroad, and Mr. Lansbury would never have known about it. All my life I have consistently refused to invest my money abroad. I have always been, for good or evil, in British industry. It is for that that I am being attacked tonight."

Drowned in Cheers.

DROWNING MAN IS SAVED BY PRIVATE HYDROPLANE

Flier Rescues Soldier 500 Yards Off Shore at Fort Slocum.

REFUSES TO GIVE NAME

New York, June 29 (By A. P.). The first "flying life-saver" bobbed up in the news today.

Private James Stanley was seized with cramps 500 yards from shore after he had sought relief from the heat in the waters of Long Island sound with a number of other soldiers from Fort Slocum. Overhead bumbled the privately owned hydroplane, Turtle II. The pilot, looking down from the cockpit, saw the soldier drowning and swooped to the water. Jockeying his ship toward the helpless swimmer, the aviator leaned out and pulled Stanley across one of the wings.

The crew of the government launch Q-12, who had heard Stanley's cries, removed the soldier from the hydroplane to the post hospital, where it was said he would recover.

"That was pretty slick work," called one of the launch crew to the aviator. "You'd better let us have your name so we can tell the boys who made the rescue."

"Oh, forget it," grinned the flier.
His propeller had been lazily flapping around. There was a sudden whirr, the motor roared—through the water he swished, ascended into the air and disappeared in the direction of Long Island. "It's impossible to trace him, because the plane is privately owned," said an army officer at the garrison.

SLUSH FUND RAISED BY G.O.P. TO DEFEAT NYE, BACKERS AVER

Senate Inquirers Are Told of Proposed Use in North Dakota Today.

PENNSYLVANIA W. C. T. U. ACTIVITIES UNDER FIRE

Expenditure of $130,000 for Enforcement Investigated; Clashes Frequent.

(By the Associated Press.) Testimony, arguments and disquisitions on prohibition enlivened proceedings yesterday before the Senate campaign funds committee as more light was sought on expenditure of the $130,000 enforcement fund raised in Pennsylvania by the Women's Christian Temperance union.

There were frequent clashes between Senator Reed (Democrat), Missouri, the chairman, and William B. Wright, special counsel to Gov. Pinchot, in expending the fund, with a blanket charge by the witness that the Federal government has failed to do its duty in prohibition enforcement.

While pursuing this line of inquiry at a brief morning session and again last night, the committee found its prospective field of investigation broadening with the filing of formal allegations of the raising of a slush fund for use in the North Dakota Republican primary today.

Huge Slush Fund Alleged. These charges were made in writing on behalf of Senator Nye, who is a candidate for renomination against L. B. Hanna, who was campaign manager for President Coolidge in North Dakota, in 1924. The statement asserted that there were indications that "a huge slush fund had been obtained through administration channels of support" for use in getting out the vote in the primary.

Immediately upon assembling of the committee yesterday the prohibition subject was brought up by Senator Pepper, who was defeated in the three cornered senatorial race in Pennsylvania. He emphasized that he had had anything to do with the removal from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia of Frederick C. Baird, prohibition administrator, just before the primary.

Testimony before the committee has been that after Baird left, the beer got better in the Mellon-Pepper stronghold in the western part of the State. Senator Pepper declared that the first he knew of Baird's removal was when he read of it in newspapers.

Tatro's Work Praised. Wright followed Pepper to the stand and Chairman Reed immediately developed that some of the special agents employed with the Women's Christian Temperance union fund in Pennsylvania formerly had been with the government prohibition unit and some had been dismissed "for the good of the service." J. A. Tatro was one of these, going out after sixteen years of Federal service. Wright said Tatro was doing "amazingly good work in Chicago" when he was dismissed.

"I think it was Senator McKelvey's secretary that he was about, as he felt, to become involved in some situation in connection with prohibition matters there," Wright said. "I have simply seen the letters and what he has told me. He was called here, I think before Commissioner Blair, to go over a statement which he was said to have made to the United States district attorney in Chicago, and he went over it, gave his version of it and went back and received, as my recollection is, simply a formal letter that for the good of the service he was dropped."

'Under Cover' Man in Trouble. Testimony was given by Wright that one of his "under cover" men, known to the committee as "Mr. Z," got into some difficulties with the authorities while he was on the women's Christian Temperance union fund pay roll in Pennsylvania. The witness was vague, but to do as he understood it "Z" was employed in a garage and liquor was found in a car there.

Confie was brought up and discussed after the trial, he said. Planie was charged with bootlegging himself," asked Reed. "For dot at all."

Reed that I can not answer. Wright replied amid laughter, adding that the liquor would have been sold if Federal authorities had cooperated.

After Wright had said the Federal government had failed to do its duty in Pennsylvania, Reed remarked:

Railroad Employee Used. "And you had to get the railroad over there owned by Gary to put in one of the railroad employees."

He referred to Frederick C. Baird, employed by the Lessemmer and Lake Erie railroad, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation.

"He is an excellent man," retorted Wright.

"Employed by a private company to enforce the public laws of the Commonwealth," Reed came back.

"He did amazingly good work," Wright insisted.

"Which I rise to remark," Reed said, "is about as illegal a proposition as has ever been presented to me in my life. It is destructive of all public government, because it becomes private government, but I am not going to argue the question."

"It will give me the privilege," said Wright, "I would like to say that I personally can not see the difference in Mr. Baird being loaned, as he was, and partially paid by drawing his salary, from what was done throughout the war nor can I see the difference from what George Washington himself did in giving his services to the Nation as commander-in-chief of the revolutionary forces."

Reed and Wright Clash. "Yes," interposed Reed, "but George Washington was not working for the Ku Klux Klan nor the Antislavery league nor the Women's Christian Temperance union. He was working for the people of the United States."

"Neither was Mr. Baird," Wright replied.

"He was on his testimony distinctly drawing from $12,000 to $15,000 from a private institution the same time was drawing $3,000 from the government, and he was armed with the power and force of the State."

"But not from the Ku Klux Klan or any of those organizations," remarked Wright.

"No, but your employees and yourself seem to have been employed by a private organization."

"Yes, but what is the difference between George Washington using his own funds or getting it from someone else and giving his services?"

Great Difference in Service. "I do not want to argue the question," drawled Reed. "But I think there is a wide gulf and a deep sea between you and your services and George Washington and George Washington's services."

"I think there is a very deep sea," Wright argued. "But I do think the principle is the same, as I think you will agree."

"I do not agree," Reed snapped. "and it is absurd to say it, but we will go on with something else."

Concluding then with Wright, the committee called before it last night George W. Woodruff, attorney general of Pennsylvania, who was joint trustee with Wright of the Women's Christian Temperance union "revolving fund" for prohibition enforcement.

W. C. T. U. Collected Fund. Woodruff testified that the much discussed fund was collected through the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and that all the money was not contributed by women, and a number of prominent men, "such as Vance McCormick," having contributed.

He estimated that $10,000 of the fund was spent from August 1, 1923, to the end of that year; $43,000 in 1924, and $39,000 in 1925, with expenditures for this year running about the same.

"Did you have anything to do with the last primary campaign?" Senator Reed asked.

"Not in a political sense," he replied. "I did contribute $11,000 to the State fund, and $6,600 to county funds in the interest of Gov. Pinchot."

Put Up Own Collateral. His first contribution was for $1,000 paid by check. After that he began making contributions to the county committees and to do that he had to borrow money from the Girard Trust Co. of Philadelphia, for which he said he put up his own collateral.

"How much of your private fortune did you put up as collateral?" Reed asked.

Woodruff protested, saying his private affairs should not be bared before "the newspaper world."

"Now tell me how much of that was related to your private fortune?"

"I can say honestly that at the time I made that contribution I was worth $250,000."

"You could not have saved that out of your salaries," Reed said. Woodruff said when he was getting $18 a month he saved $17. Reed was insistent that the witness tell where he got the $250,000.

"I believe I have a right to say to you that that is not a question that you should ask me."

Saves Entire Salary. "We have asked other witnesses the same questions," Reed said. "If you want to take the responsibility of declining to answer you can do so."

Woodruff had placed his salary as attorney general at $12,000. He said that in the past three years he had saved his entire salary. He went on to tell how he had saved money and invested it and so gradually increased his fortune.

When he had concluded Reed asked for and obtained permission to tell why he believed that Gov. Pinchot had a legal right to use the W. C. T. U. fund for prohibition enforcement.

Duty to Enforce Law. He read from the constitution charging the governor with the responsibility of seeing that the laws were enforced, pointing out that the legislature had failed to supply the funds to enforce the State dry law, he argued that it was the duty of the governor to enforce the law, since the legislature had not amended the constitution when it failed to appropriate funds.

$1,375,000 IS ADDED TO DEFICIENCY BILL, APPROVED BY HOUSE

$1,300,000 Granted for Capital Plaza and $75,000 Given Mothers.

$1,228,656 ALLOWED FOR DISTRICT'S NEEDS

Drys Win in Vote on Enforcement Fund; Measure Goes to Senate.

The House yesterday passed, and sent to the Senate, the final deficiency bill carrying approximately $45,000,000, including $1,228,656.87 in District items. An appropriation of $75,000 was added on the floor for mothers' pensions, in accordance with legislation recently enacted. This item has a provision that not more than $10,000 shall be expended for personal services in the administration of the fund.

An additional appropriation of approximately $1,300,000 was also inserted from the floor for the Capitol plaza project. A stipulation was written into the bill that of District funds previously authorized for streets, not more than $25,000 shall be expended on Massachusetts avenue to Tracy place.

Otherwise the bill was passed as it came out of committee, carrying $14,158,000 for new buildings throughout the country, including more than $5,000,000 for construction here.

Drys Win Test Vote. The measure providing the first record vote of the session on a question involving prohibition, the wet losing 246 to 33. It came on the motion of Representative Tydings, of Maryland, to send the bill back to committee with instructions that $2,700,000 for the prohibition unit be eliminated.

This fund would be used to employ 908 additional dry agents, bringing the total number of prohibition agents to 1,393, and is irrespective of the $1,000,000 which the bill also carried for new sea and air rum chasing craft.

Voting for the elimination of the enforcement fund were: Republicans—Bachrach, Esterly, Gorman, Hill of Maryland, Irwin, Lampert, MacGregor, Shafer, Schneider, Seger, Sosnowski, Stephens, Tinkham and Volght—14.

Democrats—Auf der Heide, Black of New York; Boylan, Carey, Cullen, Dickstein, Gallivan, Gambrell, Griffin, Kindred, Lindsay, Linthicum, Head, Mooney, Norton, Quayle, Tydings and Welser—18.

Progressive Socialist—La Guardia—1. Total 33.

New Yorkers Jeered. Previous to the record vote, Representative Boylan (Democrat), New York, had lost 11 to 79 on a standing vote to have the section eliminated. As he and ten colleagues stood up there were cries of "Tammany, Tammany." Representative Tydings and Welser, 18, stood up, too, when he offered an amendment increasing the appropriation by $100,000,000 and called to the other members:

"Come on, you Antislavery League men. Vote for this and we'll have real enforcement."

Spy Fund Carries. Representative Gallivan (Democrat), Massachusetts, sought successfully to have the amount reduced by $18,760, which amount, he said, Assistant Secretary Andrews had said was to be used for under cover agents to spy on State officials charged with dry law enforcement.

The bill carries $375,000 for repairs to the White House; $275,000 for improvements to the District jail; $600,000 for the completion of the Rock Creek-Potomac parkway project and other local items.

right of the governor or the attorney general in this matter," he added, "the courts of Pennsylvania are open to them."

Wright was recalled and Reed told that it appeared that $1,324 of the W. C. T. U. funds had been spent for the purchase of liquor by special agents.

This appeared from a compilation of the expense account turned in by Wright, but he said he could not say whether it was correct as he had never undertaken to foot up expenses for that alone.

Schemed to Ship Alcohol. Wright told of a scheme one of his agents had to send up large shipments of alcohol to the Pennsylvania coal fields, but the plan fell through because there were not funds to carry it out. He added that also it was abandoned because previous experience had shown that cooperation could not be expected from the Federal courts at Philadelphia.

A blanket indictment of the Federal authorities then was drawn by Wright, who said there had been no big convictions of bootleggers or the "alcohol ring."

"You ought not to be surprised that a district attorney would not prosecute a case worked up in any such manner by enforcement officers," Senator Reed said.

He then announced adjournment until tomorrow, when William H. Stayton, of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, will be called.

Field House Contract Awarded. Contract for building a field house for the tourist camp in East Potomac park was awarded by Maj. U. S. Grant 3d, director of public buildings and public parks of the National Capital, to Arthur L. Smith & Co., yesterday.

FARM BILL BACKED BY COOLIDGE BEATEN

can and foreign prices with a view to keeping the Congress advised. Senator Curtis, the Republican leader, amended this amendment so that it provided for the tariff commission to report what rates should be increased "in order to protect American agriculture and industry from foreign competition."

The Curtis amendment was adopted, 47-31. Then Senator Reed, of Missouri, moved to amend the Robinson amendment by providing a penal section making it a crime punishable by a fine of $10,000 or a year in prison for any one, "the President of the United States or a private citizen," as Reed put it, to influence the tariff board in the matter of its decisions. The Reed amendment was adopted viva voce, when Senator Curtis said he had no objection to it.

"What did we vote on?" shouted Senator Watson.

The Vice President then ruled that the amended Robinson amendment was before the Senate. The Democrats were about to join with the Republicans in adopting it, when Senator Walsh drew attention to its high tariff Republican plank injected by Senator Curtis.

Withdraws Amendment. When Senator Robinson realized the effect of the Curtis amendment he withdrew his amendment. Senator Reed, of Missouri, insisted his amendment, providing penalties for interfering with the tariff board, still remained part of the bill.

At this juncture a motion by Senator Norris to recess was beaten, 60 to 16.

An amendment by Senator Mayfield was beaten, 38 to 30, and an effort to have the Senate take up the rivers and harbors bill was sidetracked, after Senator Reed, of Missouri, had made the motion. An attempt by Senator Copeland to bring about adjournment was ignored, as the Senate leaders had agreed to remain in session until the farm bill was disposed of.

Prior to the all-important and decisive vote on the Reed amendment, discussion was sharp and acrimonious on both sides of the chamber. Senator McKellar assailed the Fess bill.

"How in the name of heaven," he said, "can you vote against the McNary-Haugen bill because it was economically unsound vote for this bill. There could be nothing more economically unsound. This is simply an effort to make the farmers believe the Congress is trying to do something for them."

The senator from Tennessee, after reading telegrams from his constituents protesting against the bill, said he believed they realized what we all realize, that this is an effort to save the face of the administration.

Fess Measure Assailed. An amendment by Senator Capper was then read from the desk. It changed the Fess bill in some particulars and provided for a Federal agricultural advisory board to be chosen by the President after recommendation from farm and cooperative organizations.

Senator Willis replied to Senator McKellar, but became involved in debate when Mr. McKellar insisted on asking whether Mr. Willis thought all parts of the Fess bill were economically unsound. Mr. Willis finally admitted that one feature was of unquestionable economic soundness and that satisfied Mr. McKellar.

Senator Norris then assailed the Fess bill.

"It isn't a question of what the farmers want; it's a question of what the administration wants," he said.

Senator Johnson then assailed the bill, declaring it had all the virtues and none of the virtues of the McNary-Haugen bill.

After Senator Walsh had spoken against the bill, Senator Bingham, of the Republican side, said he would not vote for it for several reasons. It was a long and complicated measure involving expenditure of $100,000,000, he said, and had not been submitted to a committee. He said the bill was an attempt to put the government in the business of furnishing credit in competition to those who furnish credit on sound guarantees, and the bill created more bureaus and commissions, he added. "We have too many of those now," the senator concluded.

Chamber Is Impatient. The Capper amendment was voted down without a roll call, and Senator Johnson then took the floor to resume his attack on the Fess bill. By this time the Senate was getting very impatient and Senator Shipstead found it difficult to make his brief speech, because of the chorus of "Vote! Vote!" which greeted him when he arose.

When Senator Harrell started to speak, the tumult had reached such a stage that the roll call was started before he was recognized. However, after some discussion, Vice President Dawes permitted Senator Harrell to have the floor and offer an amendment.

Earlier in the day Senator Reed, of Missouri, opposed the Fess bill. When it was charged that he had voted for the marketing act of February 18, 1922, and therefore should be in favor of the Fess bill, Mr. Reed said:

"This act does not resemble this bill any more than the planet Mars resembles a potato bug sitting on a vine waiting for its dose of paris green."

NYE OPPOSED BY HANNA IN NORTH DAKOTA TODAY

Coolidge Supporters Seek to Oust Senator for the Long Term.

TOWNLEY ENTERS RACE

Fargo, N. Dak., June 29 (By A. P.).—With interest centered in the senatorial contest and the attempted political reincarnation of A. C. Townley, erstwhile power in the Nonpartisan league, North Dakota's primary campaign closed tonight with two factions of the Republican party struggling for control of State and national offices. The factional warfare is between Republicans endorsed by the Nonpartisan league and the "regular" or Coolidge Republicans, who will attempt to oust Gerald P. Nye, Nonpartisan, from the Senate.

There will be a double election tomorrow—the regular primary and a special senatorial election to select a successor to the late Senator Ladd. Senator Nye was appointed to the vacancy, pending a special election, which was set for the same date as the primary.

Opposing Nye for the short term are L. B. Hanna, "regular" or Coolidge Republican, and C. Stone, Independent Republican, running on a "light wine and beer" platform. These three, with Norman N. Midtbo, Donnybrook, also are seeking the Republican nomination for the long senatorial term.

In the State contest the Republican gubernatorial candidacy of Townley held the center of interest. His candidacy was advanced by a committee of "old-time nonpartisans" which distributed stickers bearing his name and urged defeat of A. G. Sorlie, incumbent. Other candidates are J. M. Hanley, Coolidge Republican, and J. A. McGovern, whose efforts represent a split in the league.

Other places on the ticket represent a straight league and anti-league fight, with the exception of the DeLaune & Hudson railroad, where O. B. Burnett, Coolidge Republican incumbent, has two opponents.

The Democrats have a full State ticket, none of which has opposition for nomination, while the Farmer-Labor group has candidates for six offices, headed by William Lemke, of Fargo, former leaguer, for governor.

LOREE VISIT REVIVES REPORTS OF MERGER

Hurried Trip of Railroad President Credits Talk About Southern Consolidation.

(By Associated Press.) A hurried visit to Washington yesterday by L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson railroad, revived reports that he was about to submit his long-talked-of plan for a Southwestern railroad merger, but confirmation still was lacking when he left for New York.

The Southwestern consolidation is only one of several plans known to have been formulated by Mr. Loree, and there were strong indications that he soon would file with the Interstate Commerce Commission an application for authority to carry out one of these or some new project.

Accompanied by H. T. Newcomb, general counsel of the Delaware & Hudson, Mr. Loree conferred with Chairman Eastman, of the commission, and C. D. Mahaffie, director of the bureau of finance. Both commission officials asserted that the visit had nothing to do with the projected Southwest consolidation or the proposed Harriman line across Pennsylvania from Easton to Port Allegheny, Pittsburgh, which would provide a shorter route from New York to Chicago.

Firms Submit Airplane Bids. The Curtiss Airplane & Motor Co., Garden City, Long Island, and the Chance-Vought Corporation, Long Island City, were bidders yesterday, on a contract for 20 airplanes and parts to be awarded by the Navy Department. The Curtiss bids ranged from $10,400 to $10,640 per plane, and the Chance-Vought bids, from $8,946 to $19,196.

HOUSE. Met at noon, June 29, and adjourned at 5 o'clock p. m. until today at 12 o'clock.

Passed second deficiency bill. Agreed to conference report on army air service expansion bill. Military committee decided to defer to next session action on bill authorizing sale of surplus military lands.

Joint committee concluded hearings in Northern Pacific land grant investigation, but took no action.

Foreign affairs committee considered Fish resolution relating to the property of alien enemies, but came to no conclusion.

U. S. Not to Accept Geneva Arms Ruling

Geneva, June 29 (By A. P.).—The military experts committee of the preparatory disarmament commission today decided that trained reserves do not constitute a practical standard of comparison of land armaments.

The United States and Germany voted that they do and the American delegates later said that the committee's decision was not acceptable to them.

KEARNEY, WET, IS NAMED AS LENROOT'S OPPONENT

Wisconsin Democratic Platform Asks States to Act on Eighteenth Amendment.

DRY ACT CALLED FAILURE

Seeing nothing but "increasing disaster" in the attempt of the United States to enforce national prohibition, Mr. Kearney told the convention that the manufacture and sale of intoxicants should be left to the individual State.

The chairman criticized the national prohibition enforcement in the keynote address.

"I have never before noted so complete a failure in any effort of government as that which has attended the attempted enforcement through national agencies of the Volstead act," Mr. Kearney asserted. "Drunkness, absconding, crime walks abroad at midday armed with machine guns. The young are being taught to evade and flout the law and the old go mad in many cases laden with hip flasks presenting a semimilitary appearance to the observer."

RECORDS SUPPORT FACT BYRD REACHED NORTH POLE MAY 9

Geographic Society's Special Examiners Verify Data of Flier.

NAVY CONGRATULATED ON HIS ACHIEVEMENT

Return to Starting Point Is Cited as Evidence of Aviator's Skill.

Lieut. Comdr. Richard E. Byrd's records of his polar flight substantiate in every particular his claim that on May 9, he reached the north pole by airplane, a special examining committee appointed by the board of trustees of the National Geographic Society reported yesterday.

Members of the committee which investigated the discovery report transmitted to it by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, were Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the society, and Dr. Frederick V. Coville and Col. E. Lester Jones, members. They had expert assistance in the examination of the records from Hugh G. Mitchell, senior mathematician, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Henry G. Avers, chief mathematician of geodesy, Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Albert H. Humstead, chief cartographer, National Geographic Society.

These calculations verified all of Lieut. Comdr. Byrd's computations, devoting five consecutive days to the work and critically examining the sextant used by him. Their examination began at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 23, and was completed at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Records Carefully Examined.

In forwarding the committee's report to Secretary Wilbur, President Grosvenor said, "I take this occasion to extend to you personally and to the Navy Department, our heartfelt congratulations on this wonderful achievement by a navy man."

The experts' report stated that they had examined carefully Byrd's original records of his observations to and from the pole, contained on two charts, on which he made his calculations and plotted his positions, and that it had verified all his computations and made satisfactory examination of his sextant and sun compass.

It stated that the plane left Kings bay, Spitzbergen, at 00 hour, 37 minutes, Greenwich civil time, May 9, or 7:37 Washington standard time, May 8, and passed the north end of Amsterdam island at an hour and 22 minutes, headed north, following closely the 11 degree 4 minute meridian of east longitude.

Byrd's report gave the dead reckoning position of the plane for hourly intervals after leaving Amsterdam island, and at times sextant observations were made. Ten sextant observations to determine altitude of the sun were made, six at various intervals between Amsterdam island and the pole and four while the plane was flying at the pole.

While flying, it is impossible to make more than one astronomical observation from any point, and a single observation does not give a location but a line passing through the position of the observer, termed a "summer line," and if latitude or longitude of the point of observation is known, or its direction or distance from a known point, the position of the summer line may be determined. In the Byrd flight, direction and estimated distance from Amsterdam island were available to give position on summer lines resulting from sextant observations.

Flight Direction Known.

The direction of flight from Amsterdam island could be known to a high degree of precision, as it depended on the skillful use of a drift indicator and the sun compass, both capable of giving direction within a degree. By the almost constant use of these instruments, as was the case, it seemed probable that the route flown followed closely the route planned.

After calling attention to the near coincidence of summer lines when checked with flying time and flight direction, the report concluded that in its opinion, "at very close to 9 hours 3 minutes, Greenwich civil time, 4:03 Washington time, on the morning of May 9, Lieut. Comdr. Byrd was at the north pole, in so far as an observer in an airplane, using the most accurate instruments and methods available for determining his position could ascertain."

Regretting the fact that no sextant observations could be made on the return trip, the instrument Byrd using having slid off a chart table, its horizon glass being broken, necessitating dead reckoning on the return, the investigators concluded that the successful landfall at Grey Hook is one of the strongest evidences that he was successful in his flight northward, stating "The feat of flying a plane 600 miles from land and returning directly to the point aimed for shows beyond a reasonable doubt that he knew where he was at all times during the flight."

Estimators Say U. S. Has 7,000,000 Dogs

America's dog population of all breeds, from mongrel to aristocrat, numbers 7,000,000, the Department of Agriculture announced yesterday after a careful estimate. No figure has been set on their approximate value.

About 60 breeds are considered of enough consequence to be given a classification in the dog world, but only 48 of this number are considered of sufficient importance to be included in the departmental bulletin which gives the history, general characteristics, utility, and distribution of the more important breeds of dogs in the country.

HANNA ESTATE SETTLES ALLEGED FIANCEE'S SUIT

Son of Former Ohio Senator Planned to Wed Actress,

$500,000 WAS ASKED

New York, June 29 (By A. P.).—Following a reported settlement, the suit of Miss Jane A. Hanna, Jr., against the estate of Dan R. Hanna, has been withdrawn from the surrogate's court at White Plains.

Miss Evans' suit for $500,000 was directed against Mark, Carl and Daniel R. Hanna, Jr., sons of Dan R. Hanna, the executors and chief legatees. It is reported that the settlement out of court was for between $25,000 and $50,000.

Dan R. Hanna, who died in 1922, was the son of United States Senator Marcus A. Hanna, Ohio politician and mentor of President McKinley. Miss Evans claimed she had been engaged to marry him, but that he had agreed shortly before he died to pay her $125,000 a month for life if she would break the engagement.

Mr. Hanna was married four times, dying within a year after his divorce from his fourth wife, which prevented his legal marriage to Miss Evans when they first became engaged.

27 Vessels Assigned To Carrying Grain

(By Associated Press.) At the request of Secretaries Hoover and Jardine, the Shipping Board yesterday assigned 27 vessels to the grain carrying trade immediately and directed that 32 additional ships be reconditioned as soon as possible for that service.

The cabinet officers told the board it was absolutely essential that the grain growers of the country be assured at once of proper shipping facilities for their products. The transportation situation, the board was told, is seriously affecting the prices that the farmers are obtaining and may obliterate.

Coolidge to Include Fishing on Vacation

President Coolidge wants the world to know that he is warmly sympathetic toward fishing as a man's sport.

He told callers yesterday that, although he has not had much opportunity to indulge in the pastime since entering the White House, he hopes to pick it up again when he goes to White Pine camp in the Adirondacks for his summer vacation.

Some time ago the President was represented as having pronounced fishing to be a sport for boys, but not fitting for the indulgence of grownups. The President corrected this impression by saying he had always been fond of fishing and supported his statement by pointing out that members of his cabinet, and even the dignified justices of the Supreme Court, are accustomed to go on fishing trips, and that he proposed to follow their example during the summer.

Machine Makes Bread And Alcohol as Well

New York, June 29 (By A. P.).—A machine that makes bread and 98 per cent proof alcohol at the same time will be shown in the German exhibit at the sesquicentennial exposition at Philadelphia. Kurt Zimmerman, director of the German exhibit, arrived today aboard the steamship Zealand with 150 exhibits for the exposition.

The device was perfected by a Berlin inventor. Vapor from the dough in the oven is carried off through cooling pipes and when the process is completed alcohol is the result, he said.

$750,000 FOR LOCAL TELEPHONE EXTENSIONS

New Central Office for Brightwood and North-Potomac Addition Authorized.

REPORT A BIG INCREASE

The expenditure of $750,000 for new equipment necessary to keep pace with the rapid growth of Washington was authorized yesterday by the board of directors of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. A new central office to serve the Brightwood section, an additional office unit in the North-Potomac area and extensive switchboard relief in the Atlantic and Lincoln offices will be installed.

Charles T. Claggett, division manager of the company, stated that in the past five years the number of telephones in Washington has been increased 46 per cent. Statistics compiled June 1 show that at the present time there are in use in Washington a total of 132,761 telephones, or about one for every three or four persons. Since January alone there has been an increase of 4,255 telephones here, while at the present increasing rate of installations there will be approximately 170,000 telephones in the city within the next five-year period, according to Mr. Claggett.

The rapid growth of the Capital is reflected by the plan to install the new central office, for the Brightwood section, this being the first entire exchange to be put in here since 1908. Brightwood, Sixteenth Street Heights, Saul's Addition, Fort Stevens Ridge and other subdivisions in this vicinity will be served by the new office, it was explained.

Farmers Again Win Election in Alberta

Calgary, Alberta, June 29 (By A. P.).—The united farmers of Alberta have duplicated the landslide of 1921, which swept them into power in Alberta for the first time. In provincial elections yesterday they were given a mandate by the people of the province to continue the government with the cooperation of labor. Indications are that when all the returns are in the government not only will retain its numerical strength in the legislature but will gain a number of seats.

Boca Raton Receiver Action Is Dismissed

Jacksonville, Fla., June 29 (By A. P.).—Suit for receivership of the Mizner Development Corporation, owners and developers of Boca Raton, was dismissed in Federal court late today by Judge Rhodon M. Call, who said the applicant for receivership had not made out a case of mismanagement on the part of the officers of the corporation.

The suit for receivership was brought here two weeks ago by Guy A. Reed, a carpet manufacturer of New York city, who asserted that misleading advertising was used in newspapers, magazines and pamphlets by the corporation to wrongfully picture improvements and existing conditions, and victimize the public.

Railroad to Meet in Dawes' Office.

MORE THAN $3,000,000 TO BE PAID FOR TRACT

No Immediate Plans Made for Razing Government Hotel Buildings.

A deal between representatives of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Capitol grounds enlargement commission probably will be closed today on the property which the government is seeking to acquire for the Capitol plaza project.

A meeting was held yesterday between the members of the commission and the representatives in the office of Vice President Dawes, chairman of the commission, and only a few comparatively minor details are understood to remain in the way of a full agreement.

The railroad's offer is understood to be in the main its offer made several weeks ago before the House public buildings and grounds committee and totaling something more than $3,000,000. This figure is reached by taking the amount of the condemnation award of 1913, adding interest at 6 per cent, and taxes and subtracting the amount which the government has paid in annual rental for the property on which the government hotels are located.

Bill Carries Funds.

There is already $1,800,000 at the disposal of the plaza commission toward acquiring the outstanding property and the House yesterday inserted the remainder necessary in the final deficiency bill. This virtually insures the total amount of funds necessary as no opposition to the appropriation is expected to develop in the Senate.

If a deal is closed today, all that will remain will be action by the Senate on the appropriation and the formal paying over of the money to the railroad.

The commission, including Gen. Dawes, Speaker Lowry and David G. Lynn, architect of the Capitol, has made known no immediate plans of razing the hotels.

10 Killed in Serbian Bus Crash.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, June 29 (By A. P.).—Ten persons were killed and ten injured today when a motor bus traveling between Dejagouch and Cetinje, western Serbia, left the road and fell into a ravine.

DEFEAT OF THE FESS AMENDMENT.

The defeat of the Fess amendment to the farm relief bill by the decisive vote of 54 to 26 can not be construed otherwise than as a blow at the Coolidge administration. President Coolidge had come out strongly in favor of the amendment, and his supporters in the Senate worked hard for it. The bill represented the administration's idea of the only practicable method at this time for giving government relief to agriculture. Secretary Jardine was prominent in the proceedings, and probably it was largely upon his advice that President Coolidge favored the Fess amendment.

It does not bode well for Republican harmony when members of the old guard turn against an administration measure as they did yesterday, on a question as burning as that of agricultural relief. The farmers of the West and Northwest are in an ugly mood, and have given more than one indication that they will turn against the administration if they are not granted relief at this session. They rejected the Fess amendment as being entirely inadequate. They described it as a makeshift and an attempt to hoodwink them. They insisted that they would be satisfied with nothing but the McNary-Haugen bill. They blame the administration, justly or unjustly, for the defeat of that measure.

So Congress is about to adjourn, with a bitter feeling prevailing through the West and Northwest. Will the Republican senators who helped to defeat the Fess bill succeed in convincing the farmers that the Republican party is their friend, after all, and that the defeat of the McNary-Haugen bill was merely incidental to the formulation of a greater and better plan? Or will the farmers shape their course on the record as shown by the roll call against the McNary-Haugen bill?

Apparently it is too late now for the Republican party to do anything at this session which might soften the resentment of the West and Northwest. The die is cast. The coming campaign will indicate whether the farm revolt against the protective tariff is genuine and general, or whether it is a passing agitation, stirred up principally by the farmers' advisers and not by the farmers themselves. If the great agricultural States are bent upon revising the tariff a fight of enormous proportions looms up, in which the Republican party has everything to lose and nothing to gain.

Europe doesn't like "the Big Parade," but it did in 1918.

COMMERCIAL AIR SERVICE.

The second deficiency appropriation bill provides $540,000 to carry out the provisions of the act of May 20, 1926, to encourage and regulate the use of air craft in commerce, of which $240,000 is for general expenses of administration, inspection, licensing, &c., and $300,000 for the establishment of aids to air navigation, the equipment of additional air mail routes for day and night flying, and the construction of the necessary lighting, radio, and other apparatus for signaling.

The commercial air service thus created and provided for turns over to the Secretary of Commerce the power to license, to regulate and to inspect, to cancel licenses, and to see to it that no one operates an airplane except those who are qualified. Hereafter all operations of commercial aviation will be under the control of the Secretary of Commerce, transferring existing jurisdiction from the Post-office Department to the Commerce Department.

Another disadvantage of being fat is that you seem to be putting when you're being dignified.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

The prospects for the passage of the rivers and harbors bill in the Senate are remote. It is asserted that there are no fewer than 60 senators who desire that the bill may be taken up and passed before the Senate shall consent to adjourn sine die, but on the other hand there are a number of senators who are bent upon filibustering for a month, if necessary, to prevent action.

At the conference, between Chairman of the House committee on rivers and harbors, with Senators Curtis, Butler and McLean leaders yesterday morning, expressed the belief that the Senate will get away this bill with the determined opposition who oppose the Illinois river bill, will probably be effecting a vote, although Mr. McLean said that practically every senator favors the enactment of this session.

It can be expected, therefore, that the bill may be reached whereby a definite time for a vote will be set after the reassembling of Congress in December. In view of the fact that the projects already authorized are extensive enough to afford ample employment by the engineers assigned to river and harbor work and their force of workmen, it is difficult to understand why there should be any great worry over the failure of the Senate to pass the bill, which after all is but an authorization and which does not appropriate a single dollar. Such appropriation as can be profitably expended during the season of 1926 are carried in the regular supply bills.

DRAFTING AL SMITH.

At a gathering of several hundred Democrats, in Utica, including numerous State and county leaders, on Monday night, Gov. Al Smith disappointed his audience by failing to touch upon his possible candidacy for a fourth term as governor. It had been expected that the governor would make known somewhat definitely his final decision on the governorship, and although he was "nominated" time and again by the speakers, not only for governor but for President, he gave no hint that he had changed his mind about retiring to private life at the end of his present term. The fact, however, that the governor did not reiterate his announcement made last January was accepted by many as tacit consent to lead the Democracy once more.

The governor's silence on his candidacy is doubtless good politics. The longer he can keep the Republicans guessing the more the latter will be disconcerted. G. O. P. leaders have been in a quandary over their approaching State convention largely because they are at a loss to find a man in their party who measures up to the requirements of a gubernatorial candidate willing to make the race against Gov. Smith. Any candidate the Republicans might name would probably be doomed to defeat should the Democrats succeed in their efforts to draft Smith for another term. If the governor continues to keep the opposition in the dark regarding his plans the Democrats will have an advantage, whether Smith is the candidate or not. The governor is playing a fine game of politics.

While Gov. Smith did not satisfy the eager Democrats who were waiting for him to indicate that he would consent to run again, he did outline the issues upon which the candidates of the Democratic party will make their campaign this fall. And it is significant that nearly all the issues that the governor stressed are of his own making. Opposition to the Republican plan for a four-year term for governor under which the election would be held in a presidential year, biennial sessions of the legislature except for purposes of appropriation; failure of the Republicans to carry out their platform pledge for a workmen's compensation act; nonalienation of the State's natural resources, such as water power; increased pay for country school teachers; grade crossings and tax reduction—all are questions that Gov. Smith himself has put up to the voters. It would seem in the circumstances that no other Democrat except Al Smith is so well fitted to go before the electorate on a platform embodying these issues. Therefore the logic of the situation appears to spell Smith as the gubernatorial candidate once again.

Eventually the only unused timber in America will be the political platform.

WORLD WAR VETERANS.

Passage of the liberalized world war veterans' act recalls the generous treatment accorded the veterans by the government.

During the year ended June 30, 1925, the total disbursements for all purposes under the veterans' act of 1924 amounted to $293,755,857, representing a decrease of $21,382,540 as compared with the previous year. This reduction was due largely to the decrease in the number of men undergoing vocational training.

The disbursements during 1925 for both compensation and term insurance showed an increase from $115,494,991 in 1924 to $129,597,457 in 1925 for compensation, and an increase from $101,239,648 in 1924 to $104,136,493 in 1925 for term insurance payments. The disbursements for medical and hospital services increased some $4,000,000. The total appropriations for the fiscal year 1926 were $405,713,558—a decrease of about $74,000,000 as compared with 1924; but 1924 included $100,000,000 for adjusted service certificates and other payments.

At the close of the fiscal year 1925 there were 27,622 employees with aggregate salaries amounting to $44,127,386. The increase in salaries and employees was due to the opening of six new hospitals.

A total of 2,845,180 claims for adjusted compensation were received from August 26, 1924, to June 30, 1925. The claims during the last fiscal year have increased the total claims to more than 2,900,000; total payments last year exceeded $8,000,000, not including service certificates, dependency claims and beneficiaries.

SETTLING OLD CONTROVERSIES.

The French courts are slow. They have just rendered a decision which brings to an end a controversy over land titles which has been pending for upward of 600 years. The United States is an infant in the family of nations compared with France. Perhaps by the time this country has passed the twentieth century of its existence it will have developed the policy of "laissez faire" to such an extent that it will require 600 years of consideration to bring a legal controversy to a conclusion.

Up to now, however, all such questions have usually been decided inside a century. A case in point is given in the announcement of Congressman Almon, of Alabama, that the Department of the Interior has issued patents for 390,321 acres of heretofore title-clouded lands in Alabama under a congressional grant of almost a century ago.

In 1828 Congress granted 400,000 acres of land to Alabama to aid in the improvement and navigation of the Tennessee river by the construction of a canal around Muscle Shoals. The lands were selected and sold by the State, but because of the loss of State and Federal records, the civil war and the lapse of years, patents had never been issued to the State. Thus the title from the State to the purchasers has been incomplete, and much trouble has been experienced in passing such titles from sellers to purchasers.

The "boom" which followed the beginning of the great development of Muscle Shoals has increased the value of these lands to an enormous extent. Congressman Almon therefore took up the question of the clearance of the titles with the Interior Department, and a force of experts has been engaged during the past five months in a thorough search of the records. The investigation convinced the Secretary of the Interior that the necessary patents should issue and they have been prepared. Thus the Interior Department has beaten France by 500 years in straightening out a real estate tangle.

The precedent set by the Interior Department may spur M. Caillaux to renewed efforts to improve that record in the matter of the settlement of the debt which France owes to the United States.

At that there might be more harmony in Europe if Paderewski were playing a piano and Pilsudski a harp.

THE TRAFFIC BILL.

Opposition on the part of Senator Dill, of Washington, and Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader, has prevented an agreement on the conference report of the two houses on the District traffic bill. Should the opponents of the measure persist in their efforts to defeat this bill, it will mean that no official of the District government will have authority to issue the more than 100,000 operators' permits, the revenue from which it is expected will yield more than $350,000. This sum, under the bill, is to be used for the extension of the automatic light-control system, which has already proved its value in those sections where it has been installed. Washington is the only city of importance not fully equipped with automatic traffic lights.

Senator Dill is opposed to the bill because, he says, it will subject pedestrians to arrest if they cross the streets against these lights. The bill undoubtedly would confer this authority, but experience has shown that in order to make traffic laws effective there must be some regulation of pedestrians. In many large cities pedestrians are required to observe traffic rules and it has been demonstrated that traffic conditions have been improved and the number of accidents reduced.

The traffic bill has the approval of the majority of the citizens of Washington and of the District officials. If deaths are to be reduced, there must be regulation of traffic and a modern system of light signals. The bill should pass.

Well, well; the business of placing a small ball in a hole may be trivial, but it keeps you out of another and larger hole.

MORE AMERICAN CAPITAL ABROAD.

Announcement is made that a firm of New York brokers and promoters is offering $30,000,000 of German 6½ per cent securities of a large steel combine. This is the largest single foreign industrial loan so far arranged, and adds that sum to the already approximately $9,000,000,000 American money invested in foreign securities—government and industrial.

This German combination, financed by American capital, proposes to acquire the principal fixed assets of four leading companies in Germany. When completed, the combination will be the second largest in the world.

This announcement again brings to the front the economic and financial effect of these continuous large investments of American capital in foreign industrial securities. The offerings are made attractive, and the securities are sold rapidly; but the question is raised again: What effect will these large American holdings in foreign industrials have upon the economic and fiscal attitude of the United States?

An additional investment of $30,000,000 in German industrial securities, bearing 6½ per cent interest net, may be a powerful argument against protecting American institutions against German competition in the American markets. Many billions of American dollars, bringing attractive returns, may form a most potent influence against any law enacted by Congress to curtail the entry of foreign competitive articles to the injury of American industry.

The Worst Story I Heard Today—By Will Rogers

The Worst Story I heard today was told to me by Charley Baad, of Los Angeles. Charley is the proprietor of the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles. Charley can even handle a bunch of Movie Queens and make each one think that she is the special Guest of the Hotel. Charley was in Rome with the Hotel men, and had to stay over on account of Mrs. Baad's illness. I hope she is all well and fine now. We went one night here in Rome to a place to eat where the fellow had been knighted for just cooking Spaghetti, and the night we were there he didn't have any. The dish was Noodles. I suppose if he had been knighted for broiling chicken, why he would serve Stewed Rabbit or something. So the "knight" was a kind of a flop with us. We tried to get Hot Dogs, but he didn't have any more of them than he did Spaghetti.

Like all Californians, he had a story. He told of an Iowa man who had just come from Iowa to Long Beach, Calif. So he would be near some more Iowans. And he had never seen a Pineapple. Somebody gave him one, and a few days after, they met our old Sioux City friend and asked him how he liked the Pineapple.

"Well, I guess them things are all right for you that have lived here a few months and are one of the early settlers. But they were kinder high toned for us. We don't know how to get used to things like that."

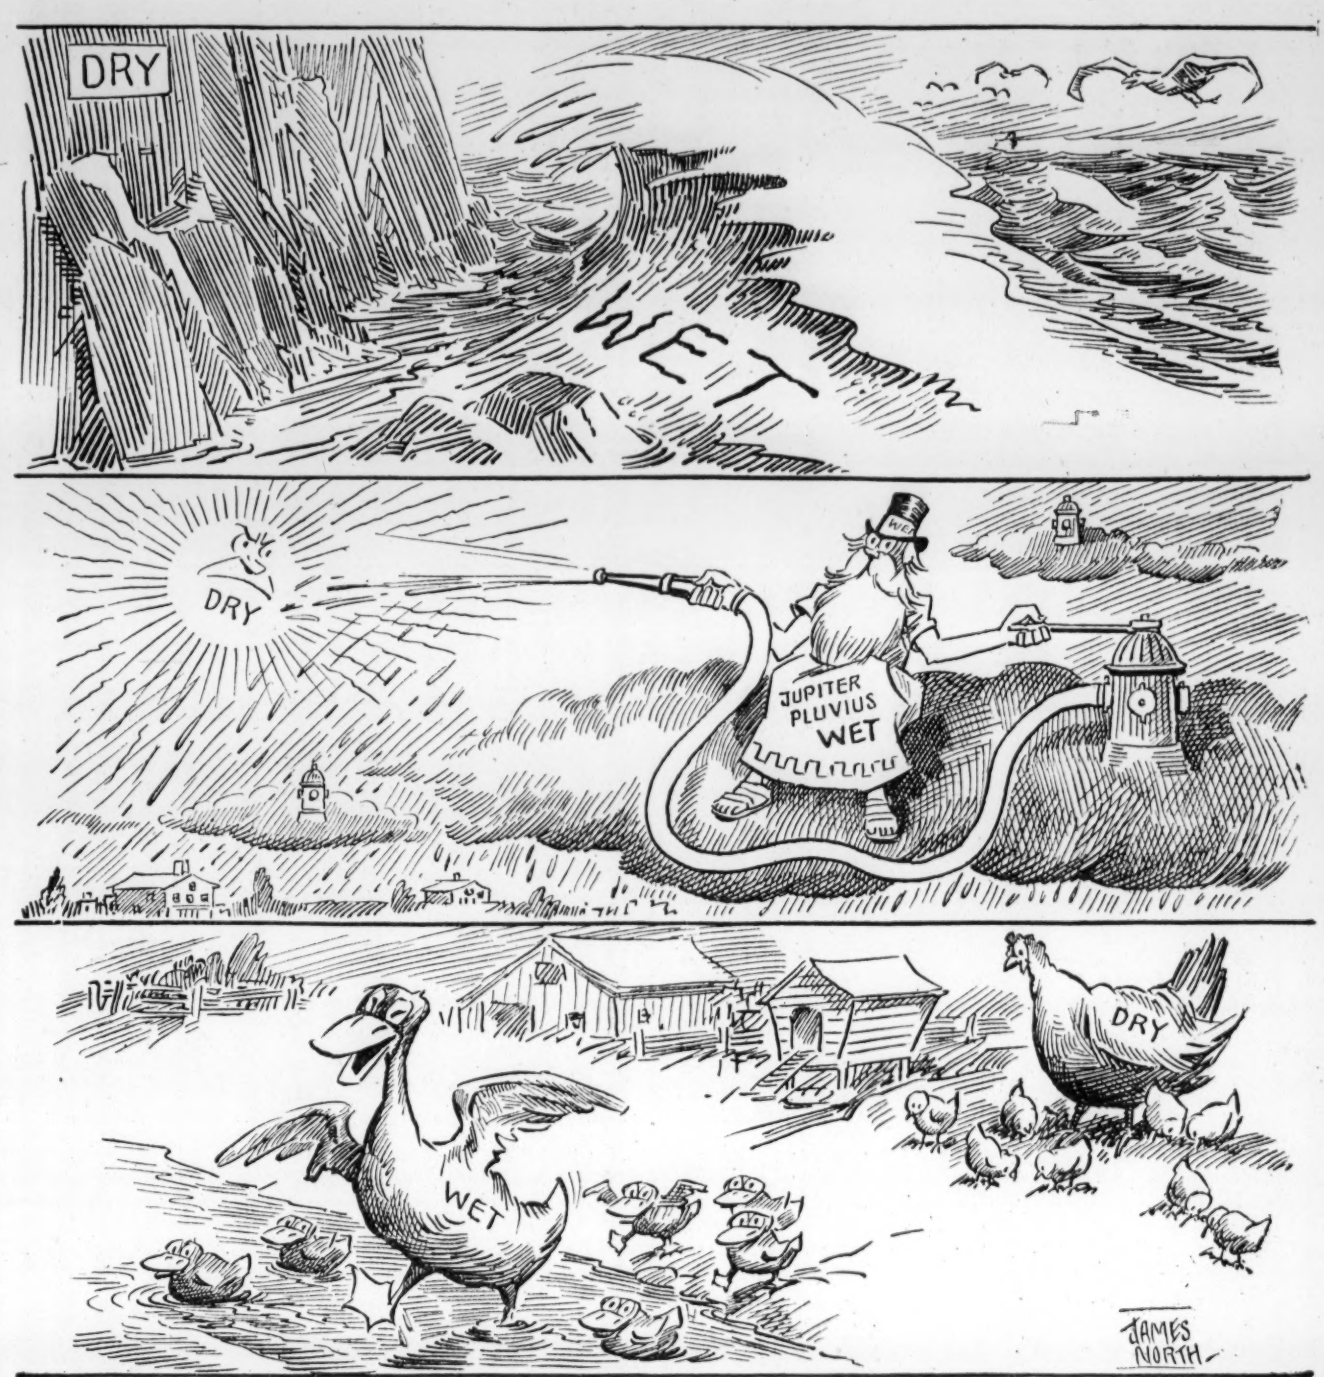

"Why, how did you eat it?"

"Well, we boiled it."

"Boiled it?" asked the old-time Iowan, who had been there four months.

"Yes, we got a soup bone and some potatoes, and Carrots and some Onions, and Ma dropped in a little fat meat. But I don't believe we will ever like 'em much. Still, you can't tell. The Children is eating olives now without making 'em sick."

Is It Any Wonder We Argue the Question?

PRESS COMMENT.

Nominations Not Elections.

Philadelphia Record: A statistician has discovered that most of the sitting members of Congress have been renominated without much opposition, except in the cases of several who did not seek another term in Washington. That is not saying that the paths to reelection will be as smooth. The indications are that a big shaking-up will come in November, with a considerable number of lame ducks in the discard.

June—The Life Saver.

New York World: There has been much complaint of the unseasonable weather of June, which month did indeed break some records of low-lying mercury in the thermometers. There has been complaint of rainy days, though the rainfall has been no more than normal. But tried by the severest test June has been a wonderful month. The test is the death rate. The difference in the death totals of a single week, the old and young whose lives are actually saved in a single week by the difference between extreme heat and moderate coolness, would fill a fair-sized theater like the Booth or the Klaw; would nearly furnish a complete S. R. O. audience for "Abie's Irish Rose." It has been a wonderful June, a beneficent June, a life-saving June. Let's quit slandering it.

Yes, It Did.

Philadelphia Inquirer: "The best way to make girls stop smoking," says the Indianapolis News, "is to start a report that smoking makes one fat." Uh, huh; that killed off the candy habit quick, didn't it?

The French Debt.

New York Times: Whoever is sent by the French government to Washington will start on a fool's errand if he thinks to secure a modification of the debt settlement. As it stands, it is not too sure of enough votes in the Senate for ratification. If the session ends within a week, as is expected, the agreement will not be voted on at all. It will have to go over to December or until the Senate is called in extra session to try an impeachment. Meanwhile it is wholly futile for M. Caillaux to ask for a change of terms in the debt settlement.

The King's Humor.

Brooklyn Eagle: The sailor who wandered into the Buckingham Palace gardens to sleep off a drunken bender has been laughed at and forgiven by King George of England, after a va police attempt to make him out a conspirator. British royalty doesn't take itself so seriously as its protectors do. It has a lot more sense of perspective.

She Deserves It.

Baltimore Sun: In singling out Ethel Langton for special praise, Lloyd's speaks for every one who knows about her. Alone in a British lighthouse for three days while a terrific storm held her parents ashore, this 15-year-old girl kept the light burning. The cable account of her courageous fulfillment of duty was worth sending and publishing as a reminder that the average human retains a capacity for heroism even though civilization tries to make life safe and monotonous.

The Patent Hodgepodge.

Brooklyn Eagle: Some 3,000,000 buyers of radio receiving sets will have to pay royalties to a monopoly if a suit against the Spill-Drift Co. is sustained, though that company was acting on a patent of German origin and licensed by the United States government. Which

Greatness By Indirection

By GLENN FRANK

Genuine greatness eludes the man who pursues it too directly.

Those qualities of mind and spirit that set a man off from the colorless crowd resist the advances of the too persistent wooer.

Richness of mind and radiance of spirit wither at the first touch of self-consciousness either in their pursuit or in their possession.

I find in Jesus of Nazareth, for instance, the rich spirituality I should expect to find in the founder of a religion that has gone the world around.

But I find in Him a man who did not seek spirituality as a thing for its own sake. He prayed with as little sense of routine as the child who tumbles into its father's arms to be comforted after a fall; prayer was to Him counsel when counsel was needed.

The men of His time fasted at regular intervals. He fasted only when He felt that abstinence would really help His body or His spirit.

The men of His time prayed at set times and in set places. He prayed with as little sense of routine as the child who tumbles into its father's arms to be comforted after a fall; prayer was to Him counsel when counsel was needed.

Spirituality breathes through His every word and action, but He did not consciously cultivate it.

It was with Him as artless a thing as the perfume of a flower.

I do not suggest that all of us can live as the great spiritual geniuses live; the church wisely provides crutches for our more halting spirits, inviting us to set observances that serve regularly to recall to our over-busy and distracted minds that life is more than meat and the body more than raiment.

But this much the lives of the great geniuses can tell us—authentic richness of mind and of morals, of action and of achievement, is arrived at by indirection and comes as a by-product of a life that keeps in touch with the great realities.

The insufferable egotism of many self-made men is due to the fact that they have self-consciously sought a second-rate success and are satisfied with it.

The genuinely great spirit that seeks reality rather than reward in the long run achieves the greatest rewards and is charmingly modest in their possession.

Still Unanswered.

Indianapolis News: Perhaps it is, as Crown Princess Louise of Sweden suggests, "because the country is new that the people are so lively and so much interested in everything," but that leaves the question of why only about 50 per cent of the voters go to the polls still unanswered.

Consolation in That.

Boston Globe: Anyhow, the President didn't say he thought taxes were likely to be increased.

Typical.

Louisville Courier-Journal: At the White House breakfast at which Republican senatorial elections were discussed, pancakes might have been served to represent administration candidates that have met the steam roller of opposition at recent primaries.

Would Help Some.

Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph: A new thought disciple says we should live to be 150, and among the suggestions toward that goal we suggest all-rubber automobiles.

Not Interested.

Omaha Bee: Despite columns printed about it, most folk think Tacna-Arica is a brand of Indian remedy sold from a wagon to the accompaniment of a banjo.

Not Much.

Philadelphia Record: Mr. Coolidge printed about it, most folk think Tacna-Arica is a brand of Indian remedy sold from a wagon to the accompaniment of a banjo.

Can't Change Their Spots.

Houston Post-Dispatch: That reformed bootlegger in Washington has been pinched for passing worthless checks. Bootleggers sometime repent as they swell in jail, but we do not believe they reform. Not any more than grafters do.

Harking Back.

Troy Times: The idea that the way to cure an economic situation is to pass a bill through Congress has received another setback. The

THE LONG NIGHT. OLIVE WARD IN THE NEW YORK TIMES. They say that in the barren arctic night.

Where restless time is held a frozen stream. The sky is flooded with fantastic light. That, changing every moment, sends a gleam Of color, yellow, amethyst or blue, To help you to forget that day is due.

So is my dark horizon often lit With fleeting panoramas of de-light. With phantom ecstasies that ever night. In loveliness, elusive, gliding night. Kaleidoscope joys with senses play As drugs! Alas! When the long, golden day?

AMERICAN ATHLETES.

Jess Sweetser is the first native-born American to win the British amateur golf championship, comments the Minneapolis Journal.

One by one have the athletic sports originating in Old World countries been dominated by Yankee players. Take polo. It was borrowed from India by the British, and as recently as the early nineties Rudyard Kipling, in his "American Notes," ridiculed attempts to play the game in the United States. Yet American teams have defeated British teams in five of the last six matches for the international trophy.

And tennis! It was derived from the ancient game of rackets of South European origin, and was something of a novelty in this country within memory of men not yet past middle age. Still, last year an American team won the Davis cup, in competition with the whole world, for the sixth straight time, and our own Helen Wills would be acknowledged as the best woman player in the world were it not for just one little French girl, Suzanne Lenglen.

Boxing is a British sport. Yet Americans usually hold the world titles in all divisions. Wrestling is an importation here, but the world's wrestling championship, which rising of horses is pitching. The other things have to be taken care of on off days.

But we Americans don't like to brag about our athletic prowess. That is, of course, except when we've got something really worth bragging about, as at present.

INSTALLMENT PAVING.

The Euclid council is expected to take the first step tonight in adopting the "stake" system of street paving to cut cost and get more streets paved—says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Under this plan, a layer of five or six inches of sand or cinders will be laid, and on this will be poured the foundation and first layer of concrete, ten or twelve inches thick. This pavement, it is hoped, will last five or six years, and, if unsatisfactory, another layer may be added.

The system, it is believed, will make the first cost about $5 per front foot, as compared with the usual cost of $10 to $15.

BRIAND'S MINISTRY IN CHAMBER GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Premier Demands and Wins Delay of Interpellations on Finance Crisis.

CREDITS ARE AVAILABLE
IF ACCORD IS APPROVED

America, However, to Insist on Stabilization of the Franc First.

Paris, June 29 (By A. P.).—M. Briand's new cabinet, the tenth that he has formed, was presented to the chamber of deputies today and received a vote of confidence. The ministerial declaration, the essential feature of which is the stabilization of the franc, involving ratification of the interrelated debt settlements, was read and the premier demanded that interpellations on financial situations should be postponed for the one week.

The question was made one of confidence, and M. Briand's wishes were met by a vote of 292 to 139, with 106 deputies absent or not voting. Thus the new government has obtained a lease of life until Tuesday next, when the all-important financial question will be debated.

The ministerial declaration, which was approved by the cabinet, declares that the French government proposes to pursue negotiations respecting France's debts with the greatest energy in order that at an early date the matter may come before parliament. Such ratification of debt agreements the new ministry considers indispensable for the establishment of the currency on a stable basis.

Government Means Business.
Increased production and reduced consumption are mentioned as necessary to France's prosperity and the statement indicated that the government proposed to make good the claim set up for it as one that means business.

Negotiations which were opened by telephone today between the Bank of France and Benjamin Strong, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, New York, and Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, who are on a holiday together at Antilles, with reference to eventual credits to uphold the franc when once it was stabilized, were referred to in the debate.

M. Tardieu demanded of the premier that pending discussion of the interpellations nothing should be done in the way of definite negotiations toward a foreign loan. Premier Briand refused to discuss the negotiations and directed M. Tardieu to the ministerial declaration, in which it was stated parliament would have ample opportunity to discuss every feature of financial stabilization.

Financial "Servitude" Seen.
M. Cachin, the communist leader, raised the question of "eventual financial servitude of France to Anglo-Saxon banking interests," and M. Briand replied that no country had demanded of France conditions that could be regarded as in any way encroaching on French sovereignty.

Parliament was informed that the time had gone by for talk; that the fate of the country was in the hands of action and was necessary. The premier appealed in his declaration to the parties to forget politics and save the franc.

The socialist announced their hostility to the government, while the radicals declared they were ready to give their support to an acceptable program, but could not give the government carte blanche. The remainder of the chamber is divided in its opinions.

Credits to Be Available.
(By the Associated Press.)

Credit from private sources will be available for France when it is apparent the new government intends to ratify its debt settlement with this country and get to terms with England on its debt there as well, and there are definite indications that this government will give its approval to the loans. Treasury officials believe, however, that American bankers will await both of these moves by France before they open their coffers. Under Secretary Winston of the Treasury, who recently visited Paris has stated France is on the way to economic stabilization but that this will not be reached until it has accounted definitely for its external obligations, including those to England and this country.

Private Dry Detective Held Under $500 Bail

Special to The Washington Post.
Danville, Va., June 29.—H. G. Holt, private detective of this city, under $500 bond at Spray, N. C., following a week's efforts to uncover an alleged bootlegging ring, is said to have accumulated evidence resulting in the arrest of half a dozen men. Then it was charged that Holt, while having a license to do detective work in Virginia, had no such authority in North Carolina. It also was charged that there had been irregularities in the securing of evidence. Judge Fugate, at Spray, nolle prossed all the pending cases, ordered the prisoners freed and ordered Holt to give bond. Holt was here for the tobacco growing up contract breaking at Richmond. It is, June 29 (By A. P.).—The twentieth annual conference of the Deep Water will be held here for the first time.

ELLSWORTH OFF EAST

Seattle, Wash., June 29 (By A. P.).—Capt. Roald Amundsen and Gen. Umberto Nobile, leader and chief pilot, respectively, of the dirigible Norge on its flight over the north pole, are again on friendly terms after maintaining a frigid atmosphere in their personal relations for more than six weeks.

The explorers "thawed out" at a banquet here yesterday when they clasped hands and then retired for a friendly chat in private. Differences arose, it is understood, when both the Italian and Norwegian components of the Norge's crew expressed the view they were entitled to first honors.

Capt. George H. Wilkins, Australian leader of the Detroit arctic expedition, and Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, unofficial army observer assigned to accompany the party, also had their differences. Lieut. Carl B. Elieson, expedition airplane pilot, said last night.

Wilkins knew a lot about the arctic and not much about aviation, while Lanphier was an aviation expert, but not an authority on arctic conditions, Elieson said. Lanphier, commander of Selfridge field, Michigan, has returned there. Wilkins is expected here within a week.

Charges against them were brought by J. H. Neff, grand titan of Wisconsin providence, No. 4, who declared he fled after seeing that some of the visitors were armed, and after he had heard cries of "lynch him."

MEIGHEN MINISTRY WINS BY 10 VOTES IN OTTAWA HOUSE

Amendment Censuring Former Premier King and Asking Inquiry Voted.

10 PROGRESSIVES GIVE GOVERNMENT VICTORY

Success Follows Earlier Defeat on Technical Point in Commons.

Ottawa, Ont., Wednesday, June 30 (By A. P.).—The house of commons early today passed the conservative party's amendment to the report of the commission which recently delved into charges of gross irregularities in the customs department. The vote gave the government of Arthur Meighen a majority of 10, the ballot showing 119 to 109.

The progressives split evenly—10 voting with the government and 10 with the liberals.

It was because of fear that this amendment would be passed that the government of Mackenzie King resigned Monday and Arthur Meighen, the conservative leader, was called upon to form a new ministry.

The vote means that the house of commons has adopted the recommendation of the customs investigating committee for improved administration of the customs department; that it has approved the censure of the King administration and G. H. Bavin, former minister of customs, who was accused of releasing without payment of excise tax a large quantity of denatured alcohol which was used for beverage purposes, most of it going into the United States; and that there shall be a further judicial investigation into the customs administration.

First Defeat Ignored.
Ottawa, June 29 (By A. P.).—The conservative ministry of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, had scarcely been in office a few hours when it suffered a technical defeat in the house of commons which caused liberal demands that it resign.

The point of issue was over a subamendment introduced to the customs' report on smuggling, which caused the resignation of the Mackenzie King ministry yesterday. This subamendment strikes out censure of the king government in a conservative amendment to the report.

Sir Henry Drayton, acting government leader in the house, took the position that the subamendment was out of order, while former Premier King submitted that it was in order. Speaker Lemieux ruled that the subamendment was in order. An appeal was taken and the house divided, the speaker's ruling being sustained, 115 to 114.

Liberals Shout Resign.
The liberals immediately began shouting "resign," but the government spokesman paid no attention to the shouts, and debate on the subamendment opened.

Sir Henry, taking the floor when the house convened this afternoon, announced that a temporary ministry composed of seven members would be sworn in without portfolio. These men have been assigned responsibility as acting ministers as follows: Finance and railways, Sir Henry Drayton; health, labor and immigration, R. J. Manion; state and public works, Sir George Perley; customs and interior, H. H. Stevens; justice and fisheries, W. A. Black.

R. B. Bennett, who is on his way to Ottawa from Calgary, also will be a member of the temporary ministry and will be given other responsibilities.

Charlotte, N. C., June 29 (By A. P.).—Young women of Charlotte are going to wear more clothes in the future, Mrs. Eloise Brown, policewoman, announced today.

Characterizing the way the young women dress as "immodest," Mrs. Brown said she was going to see that more clothes were worn. "Last Sunday," she declared, "I saw a girl headed for church who never should have left her boudoir."

NEW VAN SWERINGEN MERGER PLAN READY

Will Be Submitted to the I. C.
C. Soon; Stockholders Get Better Terms.

New York, June 29 (By A. P.).—After working for several months on a revision of the Nickel Plate merger plan, rejected last spring by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Van Sweringen interests are preparing to ask a rehearing on the proposal, modified to give better terms to the Chesapeake & Ohio, Hocking Valley, Erie and Pere Marquette stockholders. An attempt will be made to place the application before the commission prior to its summer recess, beginning in August.

O. P. Van Sweringen conferred here today with his financial advisors and with representatives of the Erie and Pere Marquette railroads. In disclosing his plans he is understood to have told them the Nickel Plate would be able to bear the burden of better terms for the other roads participating in the consolidation because of improvements in its earnings over the past several years.

Suicide Notes on Man Dead After Gas Blast

New York, June 29 (By A. P.).—Hume Leland, 35, a real estate operator, today was found dead in his East Eighty-fifth street apartment after a gas explosion that broke windows and set fire to furniture. Leland's body, dressed in a golf suit, was found in the kitchen near open gas burners.

It was not known whether death was caused by inhaling gas or by the explosion and fire, believed to have been caused by the gas coming in contact with a pilot light. Two notes indicating that Leland contemplated suicide were found in his coat, one addressed to his wife.

BOSTON PAPERS SIGNED TO TAKE PONZI THERE

Former Financial Wizard, in Houston, Is to Fight Extradition.

IN CHARGE OF SHERIFF

Boston, June 29 (By A. P.).—Extradition papers for Charles Ponzi, captured yesterday in New Orleans, have been signed, and the one-time financial wizard has announced his intention of fighting removal to this State, where he faces a seven to nine year sentence in State's prison as a "common and notorious thief."

It was announced at the State house today.

Houston, Tex., June 29 (By A. P.).—Charles Ponzi, erstwhile Boston financier and Florida land promoter, arrived in Houston today in the custody of Sheriff T. A. Binford, after having been trailed to New Orleans, where he was arrested yesterday on a ship which previously had sailed from Houston.

"Being a fugitive is not the most comfortable feeling in the world," he said at a belated breakfast in a Houston restaurant this morning. "Although," he hastened to add, "not a fugitive from justice. I was a fugitive from injustice, oppression and persecution."

Ponzi said that he had quietly gone aboard the Italian steamship Si Vos Non Vobis at Tampa June 16 as a member of the crew. He had spent the intervening time, he said, on the ship, except for brief periods of shore leave in Houston, and had touched at Galveston and New Orleans. He knew, he said, that the ultimate destination of the ship was an Italian port.

LASSITER HOLDS ARICA SETTLEMENT POSSIBLE

General Voices Disappointment at Plebiscite Failure, but Is Hopeful.

DIRECT TALKS FAVORED

Panama, June 29 (By A. P.).—Maj. Gen. William Lassiter, who succeeded Gen. Pershing as head of the Tacna-Arica plebiscitary commission, believes there is still a chance of composing the differences between Chile and Peru by direct negotiations. The general returned from Arica yesterday.

"I went to Arica," he said, "with the earnest hope of assisting in carrying out a plebiscite which would solve the Tacna-Arica problem and thus heal the differences which have so long existed between Chile and Peru. It would have been a matter of pride for me to be associated with such a solution and to have contributed something toward it."

"But after coming in close contact with the conditions existing in Tacna and Arica, I found those conditions wholly incompatible with carrying out a plebiscite that I could certify to be expressive of the will of the people of that, indeed, would accomplish anything toward a solution of the problem. As I could find no way to alter or improve those conditions, and as consummation of a farcical plebiscite was out of the question, it finally became necessary to terminate the plebiscitary proceedings."

"Naturally it is a matter for deep regret that our long and patient effort should not have produced the immediate results so urgently desired by the friends of Chile and Peru. But no friend of the two countries can fail to believe that a settlement by negotiation is quite within the bounds of reasonable possibility, or can fail to hope that such a solution will be earnestly sought."

down between the toes and, OUCH!
how tender they get.

Here's Real Remedy.

"For more than twenty years
I've handled big league ball clubs as trainer and I have tried everything under the sun for chafed skin, blistered heels, tender toes, &c., and the salve we use out at the ball park is the best money can buy, because we couldn't afford to fool with anything else," declares Mike Martin, general trainer of the Washington club.

"The salve I and a lot of other trainers have found the best of all is made from a prescription of an old German doctor. I've passed this prescription around among athletes and fans, but they complain that different druggists mix it differently and charge different prices, so they urged me to put it up in jars and let people buy it at drug stores—just like they buy my liniment for aches and pains.

"I've been afraid folks might think I was becoming a regular patent medicine man, but I know how robust people suffer with chafing and what a blessing a little relief is, so I've agreed to mix up a big batch, just to see if the public wants it, and the same salve company that handles my liniment is arranging for the sale of the salve through local druggists.

"For want of a better name I'm calling it Mike Martin's Big League Healing Salve. You can bet your life I wouldn't lend my name to it if it was anything but the best.
I've used it for years and know what it will do. Take my word on it, or ask any big league athlete, or better still, invest 50 cents in a jar and a test will prove everything I say.

"If your druggist hasn't it yet, send 50 cents in cash, check, money order or stamps to my distributors, Vaseco Products, Inc., Brentwood, Md., and you get back in the mail a good size jar of what you'll admit is the best, quickest healing salve you ever used, or you can write me at the ball park and get your money back," enthusiastically declares Mike Martin, who surely has had a life-time experience healing up the injuries, sores, cuts, burns, blisters and chafed spots of athletes. —Adv.

MODERN SCHOOLBOY EXCELS HIS FATHER, EDUCATOR ASSERTS

Better Behaved and Better Student, D. Broome Informs N. E. A.

Philadelphia, June 29 (By A. P.).—The modern schoolboy is better behaved and a better student than his "dad" was, in the opinion of Dr. E. C. Broome, superintendent of the Philadelphia public schools, who today addressed the representative assembly of the National Education Association.

"There is far better discipline of the right sort, and greater happiness among the children," he said in discussing the modern schools and the schools of a generation ago.

"The quality of education and the results are better than at any time since the schools were organized," said Dr. Broome.

Importance of Teachers.

In presenting the report of the committee on retirement allowances, Miss Ruth Pyrtle, Lincoln, Neb., stressed the importance of the teacher "as a bulwark of civilization."

"Our national progress depends more upon our schools than upon any other factor in our national life," said Miss Pyrtle. "Sound teacher retirement legislation safeguards the education interests of the State by retiring teachers at an age when they can no longer do their best work."

Approximately 15,000 teachers of all classes of schools, principals, superintendents of schools and others interested in education, are attending the convention. Discussions covering all its phases are held at meetings of the 30 groups and organizations that comprise the N. E. A.

Election on Thursday.

Nomination of officers and suggestions for the adjustment of school courses to meet individual differences commensurate with individual ability and new courses to teach the "proper use of leisure and money" marked today's sessions of the association.

Dr. Francis C. Blair, State superintendent of public instruction, Springfield, Ill., and Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president of the Northwest Missouri Teacher college, Maryville, Mo., were nominated for the presidency to succeed Miss Mary McKimmon, the election.

Vice presidents nominated were: Ira T. Chapman, New Jersey; P. P. Clinton, Oklahoma; Selden M. Ely, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Jessie M. Fink, Michigan; Harold W. Fought, South Dakota; Florence M. Hale, Maine; Arthur J. Matthews, Arizona; Sue Powers, Tennessee; Claude W. Sandifur, California; Joseph H. Saunders, Virginia; Helen B. Shove, Minnesota; May Trumper, Montana, and Mary Ulen, Oregon.

Dr. Blair, in addressing the general session, declared that it was the business of education to create within the individual the power and the means of seeing the cosmic, biologic and the social relations of his relations one to the other. Representative William D. Uphaw, of Georgia, appealed to delegates to "marshal the movies for education and help drive away objectionable pictures from the American screen."

"Then reenter it in your books as a gift from the American people to the people of Hungary," Mr. Smith rejoined, declining the money definitely.

Not only has Mr. Smith refused any salary from the Hungarian government, but he has declined to accept any part of his living expenses at Budapest during his two years' stay there. When Count Bethlen suggested that the Hungarian government would like to honor him with a high decoration, the Beethoven lawyer answered, "If you do, then I shall never forgive you. Your friendship and gratitude are more precious to me than any decoration."

Jeremiah Smith was appointed League of Nations commissioner for Hungary on April 8, 1924, and soon after began his work of rehabilitating Hungary financially. His work was so successful that on June 5 of this year he was able to report to the League of Nations that Hungary's finances were in an excellent condition. The League committee decided on June 8 to grant his request that he be relieved of his post. A week ago the Hungarian parliament hailed him as the savior of their country.

Calendar of 13 Months Is Favored by Experts

Geneva, June 29 (By A. P.).—The calendar reform experts of the League of Nations, according to current reports, are moving slowly but surely to the conclusion that the year should be divided into 13 months of equal length instead of the present system of 12 months.

By this system each month would have 28 days, and the day needed to complete the 365 would be added to the end of December as a 29th day, becoming the eighth day of the last week of the year. The new thirteenth month would be inserted between June and July and presumably would be called a solar midyear month. When leap year arrives, the scheme provides for the insertion of an extra day at the end of June, to be known as an international holiday.

The committee has reached a tentative agreement that Easter should be fixed on the second Sunday in April.

YOUTH KILLS WOMAN FOR MONEY TO WED

Gets Only $4.60 After Beating Variety Store Owner to Death.

Lowell, Mass., June 29 (By A. P.).—A 19-year-old boy who was to have been married tomorrow and wanted money has confessed to the murder of Mrs. Esther A. Frost, elderly variety store owner here, according to the police. Mrs. Frost was found beaten to death in her store this morning by some one who got away with $4.60.

Tonight Donald M. Ferguson, an unemployed mill hand who lives within 200 yards of the store, was held without bail charged with first degree murder. He was arrested late today at the home of his fiancée, whose name the police refused to divulge, and confessed to the murder after three hours of questioning, the police said.

Ferguson maintained that his only reason for his act was to obtain money for his forthcoming marriage.

4 CALIFORNIA CITIES SHAKEN BY QUAKES

The Rhine, crevices were formed in the streets and houses, many people passing the night praying in churches. No lives were lost and the damage not particularly severe. The quake lasted only a few seconds.

Three earthquakes were recorded yesterday on the Georgetown university seismograph. The first began at 9:41 a. m., tremors dying away about noon. Director Tondorf, who described it as "severe," estimated the distance at 8,200 miles to the south. The second series began at 2:02 p. m., reaching a maximum intensity between 2:16 and 2:18, and dying away about 3 o'clock, with the distance estimated at 2,000 miles.

The third, which was less severe than the others, began at 6:38 p. m., continuing about half an hour. The distance was estimated at 2,300 miles from Washington.

OLDEST MOONSHINER AGAIN IN JAIL AT 95

Special to The Washington Post. Winchester, Va., June 29.—Joe Ridley who at 95, is said to be the oldest moonshiner and bootlegger in the United States, is in jail again. He has been making whiskey ever since he was 12 years old. His activities began here when the late L. B. Savage distilled his famous old "Kernstown pure rye." Since prohibition became effective Joe, who has been arrested on the same charge three times, kept straight ahead in his chosen avocation of converting grains and fruits into whiskey.

Joe made a few quarts of corn liquor on his cook stove in the country and came to town last night driving his old horse to a rickety buggy. He was peddling his product in Winchester when two policemen saw his pockets bulging and found three pints of liquor on him. Then Sheriff Pannett went to Ridley's home and found a still and some ingredients.

Now Joe is in jail on two charges—illegal possession of liquor and possession of a still.

ELLIOTT RELEASED ON BOND; ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Wealthy Promoter Is Cleared of Murder Charge After Wife's Fatal Fall.

St. Petersburg, Fla., June 29 (By A. P.).—E. M. Elliott, wealthy promoter, charged with the death of his wife, today was bound over to the grand jury under $20,000 bond after the district attorney told the court there was no possibility of obtaining a conviction of murder in the first degree.

The district attorney said he would seek a conviction for manslaughter.

The preliminary hearing today followed the verdict of a coroner's jury yesterday, which found that Mrs. Elliott came to her death at the hands of her husband, Mrs. Elliott died Saturday night as a result of a fractured skull, which she was said to have received that day when she fell from the rear doorway of her home on the concrete pavement.

Police charged that Elliott either pushed or caused his wife to fall. She had filed suit that day for divorce, charging cruelty and infidelity.

Elliott tonight was back at home, after furnishing bond. Today's hearing came to a dramatic conclusion when the millionaire developer took the stand and related his story of the tragedy. When he had finished, his eyes filled with tears and he dropped back into his chair, his face buried in his hands.

"Is it a fact, Mr. Elliott, that you loved your wife very much?" his attorney asked.

"My God, what a question!" he sobbed. "Of course I loved her, more than words can tell. I have given her diamonds, automobiles, fine homes, everything that her heart could desire."

"Wife Not Responsible."

"But," he added, his voice sinking almost to a whisper, "Mrs. Elliott has been a sick woman for many years. She has had a number of serious operations. She was highly nervous and at times would do things for which she was not responsible. She would drive the car through the garage, strike at me with a golf club, and do many other things. This divorce question had become an obsession with her. I had tried to get her not to file the bill, and we had agreed to leave at once for our lodge in the northern woods, but now it is all over."

Elliott's hearing today was delayed for several hours, during which he was permitted to attend his wife's funeral in custody of two deputy sheriffs.

Heat Wave Is Broken Before Reaching East

Chicago, June 28 (By A. P.).—Mr. Jupiter Pluvius tonight thundered a proud boast of having broken the back of what was scheduled to be a sizzling heat wave over the middle West, before Old Sol had gotten well warmed to his task. Sweeping eastward from the Rockies, the heat made a bold assault on the middle West today, sending the mercury to new high levels for the summer in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. Then later in the day came a heavy rain with cooling winds. Weather bureau reports indicated that the hot wave had met a premature death and cooler weather was forecast for tomorrow.

Cow and 3 Hogs Perish In Fire; Horse Burned

Seaford, Del., June 29.—Fire of mysterious origin destroyed the home, barn and stables of William Priestley, on the Cannon State highway, near Seaford, today. A cow and three hogs perished in the flames and a horse was badly burned. The fire began in the stables and quickly spread to the barn and house. Firemen from Seaford and Bridgeville hurried to the scene, but could only save some smaller outbuildings. Priestley was at work in a field. Mrs. Priestley and her 11-year-old son, who were in the house, fled.

CLOSING OF SESQUI ON SUNDAY REFUSED

Committee Makes Decision Over Protests of Many Church Groups.

Philadelphia, June 29 (By A. P.).—The sesquicentennial international exposition is to be opened Sundays, notwithstanding demands of clergy, men that State troops be used, if necessary, to close it.

The executive committee of the exposition, in making the decision last night, announced it regarded the exposition as an educational, cultural and patriotic celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

The Taj Mahal, which houses the Indian exhibition, and certain dances in the oriental village, will be restricted Sundays. The idea of a Sunday opening has been denounced by various ministerial groups, each holding it was morally wrong and that it was in violation of the State laws.

LIQUOR CASE WATCHING AT POLICE COURT ASKED

Mrs. Lucy Swanton Would Have Members of Body Observe Trials.

Prohibition examinations in District public schools were advocated by Mrs. Theresa A. Williams, speaking yesterday at the quarterly meeting of the local branch of the Young Women's Christian Temperance union in the Takoma Baptist church.

The proposal was made with a view to enforcing the teaching of effects of alcohol and tobacco on the human body to the Washington school pupils. Chapters on the subject are included in the textbooks now used in classrooms, but Mrs. Williams does not believe the subject is being given sufficient emphasis by teachers. She advocated placing the subject on the same basis as arithmetic, with equally stringent examinations on both subjects. Mrs. Williams is corresponding secretary of the local body, and the proposal was made by her in giving the report of the committee on scientific temperance instruction.

A committee of the local W. C. T. U., headed by Mrs. Lucy R. Swanton, has already called upon Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools, urging that more attention be given the subject in classrooms.

Would Watch Court Cases.

Mrs. Swanton, who is also chairman of the citizenship committee, speaking at the afternoon session yesterday, urged members to go to the police court to observe the disposition of liquor cases, with a view to reporting any sidetracking of these cases to the national body. Two women were urged to attend court daily for that purpose, and slips were distributed by the speaker on which the members were asked to designate days they would attend.

Alvin W. Miller, principal of Central High school, addressed the body in the forenoon on "Our High School Boys and Girls." He asserted that there was practically no drinking or smoking at Central during school hours. Mr. Miller expressed confidence that the younger generation was as good, if not better, than youth of former generations.

Says Women Elevate Work.

Admission of women into police work has greatly elevated standards of police conduct, Lieut. Mina Van Winkle, of the women's bureau, told delegates at the afternoon session. She asserted that the salary of the first police matrons was paid by the W. C. T. U., and that Baltimore was the first city to admit women into that work. The W. C. T. U. was also given credit by the speaker for obtaining admission of women into police work.

Approximately 200 delegates attended the one-day convention and Mrs. L. M. Pollock, vice president, presided. Three hundred new members were procured in the last three months, it was announced.

Many Attend Service For George W. Grice

The most largely attended funeral services of recent years in a church were those for George W. Grice yesterday at the Washington National cathedral. Nearly 2,000 persons sought to gain admission. The deceased was a resident of this city for many years.

He was in business as an undertaker at the time of his death and had 1423 Sixth street. For years he operated a livery, and recently developed large connections and was one of the board of directors of the hotel. While more than 2,000 persons sought to gain admission, the funeral was conducted by Grand Master Ford for the Colored Methodist church, with Rev. Sterling N. Wiseman, in many cemetery.

First Citizens' Body For School Change

The first break in the long list of unanimous "noes" reported by various associations to the plan to lengthen school hours was recorded with the board of education yesterday when the East Washington Citizens association voted in favor of extending the school hours and doing away with home work for pupils in the first six grades. The association voted against holding school Saturday morning and also against the proposal to do away with home work for pupils above the sixth grade.

PYTHIANS HERE DRAFT BUILDING INVITATION

Capital Lodge Cites Many Advantages in Having Headquarters in Capital.

The first draft of the invitation to the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias to establish permanent international headquarters in Washington was drawn up at a meeting of a special committee of the local lodge held in the Pythian temple last night. The facts as to the advantages of locating the headquarters were presented by C. E. La Vigne, director of the Washington Convention bureau. Emphasis is being laid on the fact that Washington is the mother domain of the fraternal order, it being established here in 1844, with thirteen charter members.

The order contemplates building a new building costing approximately $1,500,000 to house its new headquarters, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis and Minneapolis are competing with Washington for the headquarters. The supreme lodge, after many years of moving its offices, has decided to establish permanent headquarters in one city, so that it can erect a building in which to house their headquarters offices. John M. Kline, chairman of the committee, presided.

Acacia Life Members Hold Annual Picnic

More than 100 members of the Acacia Mutual Life association, their families and friends attended a picnic yesterday at the Manor club. The picnic is tendered annually by the board of directors. Swimming races and foot races were the principal events and prizes were awarded to 30 persons. The committee in charge was: David Crouch, chairman; Miss W. Glascock, Miss E. Reinmuth, Miss D. Phillips, Miss E. Webb, Miss M. Hoff, Miss L. Reed, Daniel McCreary, E. Higgins, K. Miller and C. Speakman.

DYER DISMISSES FENNING CHARGES

sequence nor did he confine himself to his charges. He spread his original charges over a period of many of which were looked upon at the time as frivolous, and then when he went before the judiciary committee he developed all the testimony he could, on anything and everything with little regard to his line-up of charges.

One of the Texan's charges, for example, was that Mr. Fenning by his doings had incited Dr. White and the others at the hospital to make extra money until Dr. White went to Chicago to testify in the Leopold-Loeb trial at $250 a day. There was another charge that Mr. Fenning was holding a sane man at the hospital in the person of Lieut. Frank D. Allen. Mr. Dyer's comment on this charge is that there was no evidence in support of it. Members of the committee told Mr. Fenning that they would not pass on Allen's sanity. The man was declared sane by a District Supreme court jury Monday.

There is known to be considerable division of opinion among the members of the subcommittee, not only on the question of Mr. Fenning's impeachment, but also on the question of whether it should confine itself to submitting such a report as Mr. Dyer has prepared. These members disagreeing with Mr. Dyer take particular exception to his manner of passing upon certain charges as "unproved." It is their attitude that their committee was not a jury, deciding upon Mr. Fenning's innocence or guilt, but investigating as to whether it should recommend to the House that that body prosecute Mr. Fenning before the Senate. The Senate is the jury, they point out.

It was Mr. Blanton's duty, according to their view, to submit all the evidence he had and to assist the committee as possible. But if there appeared to be an insufficiency of evidence on some of the charges, it was for the committee to develop them further to determine definitely whether they had enough basis on which it could rest a prosecution. The judiciary committee, in their opinion, is likened unto an assistant prosecuting attorney, charged with investigating and recommending to the prosecuting attorney, the House, whether it had a case or not.

The measure should be, in their opinion, not to consider certain charges as "unproved," but rather whether they warranted further inquiry.

Mr. Fenning was assisted in the Senate again yesterday as was Traffic Director Eldridge. Senator Dill, of Washington, characterized the traffic director as a "benevolent despot," and declared that if a member of Congress had done the things Mr. Fenning had he would have been removed from office long ago.

"Fenning's defense is that he is not a Federal officer, and therefore cannot be impeachable. He says we can not touch him." Senator Dill objected to consideration of the conference report on the traffic bill, saying he did not want to "give to such a man as Fenning any more authority if I can help it."

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION INDORSES POLICEMAN

Northeast Body Urges Promotion to Lieutenantcy for Sergt. Wittstack.

OPPOSE SCHOOL CHANGE

A bitter verbal battle waged in the final meeting of the season of the Northeast Business Men's association last night in the Northeast, Mr. May asking that the association, through a letter to Commissioner Fenning and Maj. Hese, indorse Sergt. Wittstack for promotion. Mr. Poston cited the interest which the sergeant took in the affairs of the body during the past year, and stated that the association should indorse him.

A motion was introduced by E. C. Poston asking that the association, through a letter to Commissioner Fenning and Maj. Hese, indorse Sergt. Wittstack for promotion. Mr. Poston cited the interest which the sergeant took in the affairs of the body during the past year, and stated that the association should indorse him.

Hubert Newsom opposed the motion saying that the body should not single out one man for praise when Capt. Charles Peck, Lieut. Sidney Marks and police of the Ninth precinct had done the same work in the association's affairs as Wittstack. After discussion by other members of the association, the motion was put to a vote and defeated.

Dr. R. W. McCollough then introduced a motion requesting the association to send a letter to Commissioner Fenning commending Wittstack for his work. Mr. Newsom again rose in opposition. Dr. McCollough declared, "I believe we ought to stand behind this man and try to get his promotion as he is the only Northeast man up for lieutenantcy. If the motion is carried, the precinct to be formed soon."

After three-quarters of an hour of wrangling and refusal by Dr. McCollough of amendments made to his motion by Mr. Newsom, the original motion was voted upon and carried. Mr. Newsom being the only voter in opposition.

The question of the proposed change in the school program, that of lengthening the school hours, holding school on Saturdays, moving and doing away with home work was opposed unanimously by the association.

Declaring that within the last two months there have been more arrests at the Ninth precinct for parking cars abreast of motorists shopping in H street northeast, William Smith urged the association to request Capt. Peck, of the Northeast precinct, to have his charges be more lenient with the shoppers. As a result, Mr. Smith and Mr. Poston were appointed a committee to consult with Capt. Peck.

A program of entertainment was staged prior to the meeting. Irma May Wright, Redding, Mary Jones, Margaret Foley, Hilda Johnson and Ronnie Collins were among those participating.

Man's Death Held Due To Natural Causes

Jacob Flannigan, 60 years old, of Bladensburg, Md., who died in casualty in a street car, of a baffling malady, was found yesterday to have died from natural causes, according to Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt. An autopsy performed on the body yesterday revealed that Flannigan was suffering from complications of disease. His heart, kidneys and lungs were in bad shape as the result of alcoholic indulgence. Dr. Nevitt said. Flannigan was taken to the hospital Monday in an apparently healthy condition. Physicians were unable to diagnose his case, and after a short period of coma he died. Reports that the man laughed himself to death were scoffed at by hospital authorities.

who noted on that the man was conscious most of the time before he died and that the man had not been ill for long.

Report of Boy-ed Trip To America Is Denied

Bar Harbor, Me., June 29.—Mrs. Mackay Smith denied here today that Capt. Karl Boy-ed, her son-in-law, is on his way to America, as was reported on Sunday. Frau Boy-ed and their child are coming to the United States for their customary visit. Mrs. Smith said, but Capt. Boy-ed has made no application for a passport to return to this country.

Boy Hurt by Auto.

Demetra Acton, 11 years old, of 711 Quincy place, received severe lacerations on her head yesterday when an automobile in which he was riding, driven by Ellis Glyco, of the Roosevelt pharmacy, Sixteenth and V streets northwest, was in collision with a Washington Rapid Transit Co. bus at Thirteenth and Massachusetts avenue northwest. Acton was treated by a nearby physician.

Man Freed From Asylum.

George C. Tisdale, who was committed to St. Elizabeth's hospital July 25, 1913, from a Federal penitentiary in Washington State, was found to be of sound mind and released yesterday in criminal court by a jury. Tisdale's sentence had expired and he contended that the authorities at the hospital had no right to detain him.

Admits Manslaughter.

Raymond C. Batson, colored, indicted on a charge of first degree murder, was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter yesterday in criminal court. He is alleged to have shot his wife, Bessie Batson, in the janitor's quarters of an apartment house on Quarry road, July 21, 1925.

Dr. E. D. W. Isaac, of Nashville, Tenn., will address the colored Baptist Young People's Union convention at Laurel Baptist church, Eleventh and G streets northeast, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. McCormick, Jr., Makes Train Record

Chicago, June 29 (By A. P.).—Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, Jr., of Chicago, arrived home today on a special train in the fastest time any passenger ever rode from New York city on the Pennsylvania railroad—16 hours and 56 minutes. She declined to offer any reason for the trip, begun soon after she arrived in New York yesterday from Europe, too late to board a 2:55 p. m. train for Chicago.

Attaches of the Pennsylvania railroad said that the time of the McCormick special was the shortest in its passenger-carrying annals, although the best record was fourteen hours for a test train.

Mr. Stull moved that the resolution be indorsed, and the motion prevailed.

Chairman Jesse C. Suter read a letter from Representative Frederick N. Zihlman, chairman of the House District committee, commending the work of the council. The letter said:

"The suggestions, advice and opinions expressed by the council have been of great assistance to the committee in considering the many matters of local importance which have been referred to us. You have endeavored to reflect the sentiments, as well as the best interests, of the city."

Thomas E. Lodge was elected president of the American University Park Citizens association at an organized meeting last night at the home of William R. Manning, 4701 Fessenden street northwest. Last night's session followed a preliminary committee meeting last week, at which definite plans for formation of the new association were agreed upon.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Frances Williams, vice president; Henry A. Donovan, secretary, and Miss Grace Torrey, treasurer. A constitution, modeled on that of the Lincoln Park Citizens association, was adopted unanimously, with 44 members of the organization voting. Details of routine work are to be decided at later meetings.

Announcement was made that the boundaries of the new association would extend as follows: Western avenue to River road, to Forty-third street, following Nebraska avenue to Loughborough road to the grounds of Dalecarlia reservoir, to Western avenue and up the avenue to River road to Forty-third street.

Iowa Circle Body Opposes Lengthening School Hours

Volk, 1500 Vermont avenue northwest.

An entertainment program was provided after the business meeting. The meeting was the last until fall. Mrs. Florence K. Copeland and Miss Mary Thibadeau gave readings. A piano duet was given by Miss Ella Thompson and Mrs. Burleigh. Mrs. Duff Lewis gave a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Stella Lippman. Mrs. Elmer M. Thompson, president, presided.

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD
Not in a Thousand Years!

THE letter printed below seems to me to be double worthy of note. For surely "Octogenarian" readers of this column must be rare. And how priceless their opinions, their advice, their viewpoint on this show that we call life. How often I gaze in spell-bound wonder at some quiet, calm old face. What thoughts they must have—these people who have lived—what veritable storehouses must be those silvery heads. And oh—the calm with which they see all things. In grief, how sure their comfort. In trouble, how ready their counsel. Dear, wonderful people who see us as we are because they see in us themselves of long ago and judge us gently.

And so it is most proudly that I hail one more of those so rich in experience as a reader of this column and a friend of those who bring to it their heartaches and their doubts. The advice given by this man of years is for the younger man, a widower, whose fiancée refused to use any article he had purchased for his first wife—demanding that everything in the home be disposed of and replaced. The demand—taking no count of the man's feelings, is thus discussed by one of those who see clearly from afar:

Dear Miss McDonald:—Finding great pleasure in reading your articles, I have on more than one occasion been strongly tempted to worry you with a letter, but have resisted the temptation. Now the temptation has overcome me. I am not a woman, but ask you tell "Worried," whose letter you printed, not to marry the woman concerning whom he asks your opinion. No, not in a thousand years—no woman who truly loves a man would even dream of imposing such conditions on him. True love means, ever and always, sacrifice of self for the beloved.

It were better for "Worried," far better, to break his engagement with this supremely selfish woman, even at the cost of beggaring himself by paying her heavy damages—and she will surely exact them—than to take into his heart and life a woman who will surely begin making him miserable within the honeymoon.

Life has taught me that when two are perfectly mated, each wholly forgetful of self, seeks ever to find the means of increasing the other's happiness; and this mutual struggle results in supreme happiness for both.

AN OCTOGENARIAN.
As one who is young and vested with grave responsibility, I thank "Octogenarian" and ask him to help with kind counsel whenever he feels our limited wisdom fails—or falters, for youth will indeed be helpless when age forgets to care!

Conduct and Common Sense

VISITING, BEDWARD MOVES.

By Anne Singleton.

THE fact that people often write about this shows that it must be a thing which worries the unaccustomed guest not a little. "When staying with acquaintances one does not know very well," they put it, "does the host or guest make the first move to consider the evening over and go to bed?"

The hostess, naturally, is the person to put a stop to the evening saleties when she thinks fit. But if any one of the guests was tired, or not feeling well, there would be nothing impolite in her quietly explaining this and going to bed at a reasonable hour. Anywhere between ten and eleven seems reasonable to a weary person, though rather than break up game or talk she might wait later. When a party is sufficiently large, however, one member of it may slip away without being much noticed should occasion demand it. Again, if a party is very small, and the after-dinner amusement is beginning to flag, a guest might, as it grew late, say: "Well, if you don't mind, I think I'll go to bed. I had rather a hard day in town." If the host or hostess should be watchful, they might see signs of fatigue and suggest the move first. "I expect you're tired after your journey," or "Tell me whenever you want to go up; we are night owls here," gives the guest a chance of escape.

Men are always supposed to allow women to take the lead on these occasions; that is, a man would consider himself rather more obliged to see the game finished, or the company dispersed, before he confessed to any sleepiness or fatigue.

forego the pleasure of these good shrubs. As a matter of fact, all he needs to do is make the desired spot acid, and keep it so.

The easiest way to do this is to dig in a lot of the surface soil from under oak or pine trees, which is intensely acid, and then after planting to keep the surface covered with dead oak leaves or pine needles in order to maintain the desired chemical condition. With out such a constant replenishing of the tannic acid the soil will gradually become sweet again by infiltration from the surrounding earth.

You might keep this in mind, Jimmy, and put on one of these acid-holding 'mulches' just as life insurance for your pet Rhododendron. It can't do a bit of harm, and it may mean even finer flowers next year and for years to come.

Acid Soil for Rhododendrons

Acid Soil for Rhododendrons

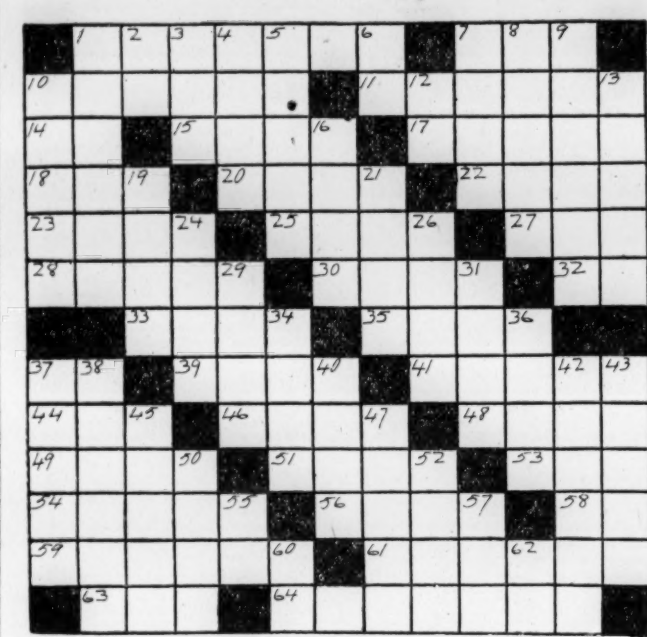

DEAR JIMMY: I've read some enthusiastic garden letters in my time, but I've never seen any that was so bubbling over with ecstasies, so positively jammed with Peg in which she did her darndest to convince me that there never were, will or could be such superb Rhododendron blossoms as those on the big bush in the north corner of your lawn. It seems like a horrible let-down for me to tip you off now to the fact that the perfection of that great mass of rosy pink was probably due to the soil in that particular part of your domain being extremely acid.

You see, the broad-leaved evergreens—a shrub group which includes Laurel as well as the rhododendrons—will fail unless their roots get plenty of tannic acid. Ordinary "sweet" soil, the kind which gives the best results in regular flower or vegetable gardens, is not at all to the taste of the broad-leaves. Plant them in two or three years. I suppose it's pretty safe to say that 75 per cent of the failures that people have with Rhododendrons—and there are a lot of cases of non-success—are a result of insufficient soil acidity.

All this doesn't mean that the man with sweet-soil grounds must

PERGOLA LEADS THE EYE

A pergola should always lead the eye somewhere. And, in this case, the eye travels the grass path, with its few gray stones sunk in the cool green, and its border of tall, proud iris. At the end stands the old well-head, and the big flowering shrubs. After them comes the garden proper.

The pergola is of rustic type. As a rule, one should beware of rusticity in pergolas, for it can be so easily overdone. But the whole effect of this planting is so informal that one may well have unshorn trees and unweeded stones. Over the pergola may climb white Dorothy Perkins roses, or, better still, those hybrid Dr. van Fleet's that show such marvelous and melting shades of pink, despite their staunch hardiness.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

EVENING.

The twilight falls, and the tasks are done. And the garden glows in the setting sun. The martins sweep on their last few flights. And there comes the calm of God's summer nights. Then it seems that the blossoms bend to pray. At the glorious close of another day.

In that lovely hour when the dusk slips down. A hush comes over the noisy town; I hear the whistle of old BobWhite, And it seems to me that he says, "Good night!" The wrongs slip into their house nearby, And alone in the lowering dusk am I.

In that evening hour when the shadows fall. Comes a touch divine to my garden small. I stand in silence a moment there. And fancy the blossoms are bowed in prayer. I catch a beauty of plant and flower That is only there in that evening hour.

ARTISTS SEEK BEAUTY IN HILLS OF INDIANA

Brilliant Coloring of Brown County's Woodlands Attracts Classes.

Nashville, Ind., June 29 (By A. P.).—Along meandering creeks and deep in the Brown county hills, devotees of palette and brush are at work again.

Every summer and autumn many well-known artists come to this almost primitive section of Indiana to sketch the brilliant colorings of the woodlands. Along the fringe of hills are many bungalows, the summer houses of painters.

Several years ago Theodore Steele, the Indiana sketcher of landscapes, built a summer home on Bear Wallow, a hill overlooking Nashville. To this rambling cottage, which he called the House of the Whispering Winds, came fellow artists, who, falling under the spell of the rustic beauty, also built bungalows.

The fame of Brown's country picturesqueness spread, and soon teachers of art at Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Louisville and Chicago were bringing their classes to Nashville.

CHALIAPIN AND SHAW MEET ON EARLY WALK

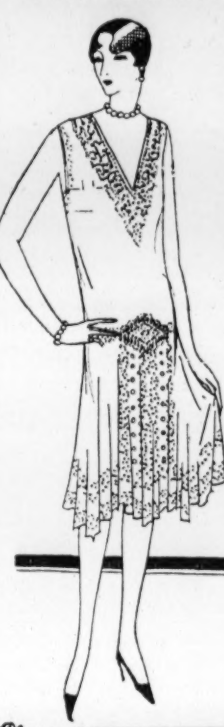

Singer and Author Talk but a Few Moments on the Thames Embankment.

London, June 29 (By A. P.).—Chaliapin, who dislikes to go to bed, was quick to become one of the regular, early morning walkers along the Thames embankment.

The first night of his appearance at Covent Garden here, Chaliapin walked many miles, while most of London slept. He reached his hotel just in time to have a peep at the morning newspapers' comment on his first operatic performance.

Another famous early morning walker is George Shaw, who knows every inch of the embankment from Black Friars to Westminster. It is his favorite promenade after midnight. One morning, when each wanted to be alone, the singer and the writer met. The conversation lasted but a few minutes, and when they parted Chaliapin went one way and Shaw hurried off in the opposite direction.

The Smart Thing to Wear—

Paris Dances in Filmy Frocks That Simply Radiate Chic.

NOTHING can usurp the place of chiffon as the dance frock medium, our Paris stylist reports, but to be really smart the chiffon frock must scintillate—either with the aid of crystal beading or diamante, and, of course, it must flare in the new godet manner.

THE crystal-beaded frock illustrated is interpreted in imported chiffon over crepe satin and makes a feature of the new godet skirt treatment and pointed hemline. In orchid, peach and white.

BEAUTY AND YOU

REDUCING THE ANKLES.

By Viola Paris.

TO the owner of fat ankles, I would offer my sincerest sympathy, but not unless she's done her best to reduce them. Today, I'm going to tell her five things to do, all of which are the pet recipes of clever women whom I know personally.

The first is a massage with a good reducing cream. The movement consists in making two bracelets around the ankle with your two hands, thumb and first finger joined. Now work these bracelets firmly but quickly, in opposite directions.

The second recipe consists of a foot bath. Add a good handful of Epsom salts to water as hot as you can stand it. Soak ten minutes. Repeat every night.

The third is easily given—wear rubber anklets at night.

The fourth is an exercise endorsed by a dancing instructor. Lie on the floor, raise the legs and rotate the feet from the ankles, moving them into toward each other. Or sit in a chair and do the same thing, first with one foot and then the other.

The fifth recipe doesn't cure fat ankles, but makes them look less fat. Never wear really light stockings in the daytime. Never wear an Oxford unless it's a very low-cut model; a pump is your best friend.

Tomorrow Viola Paris will give advice on reducing large pores.

A Unique Soap

Created by experts for one purpose only—to safeguard your complexion

That's why, on expert advice, thousands are gaining the charm of natural loveliness through this simple daily rule in skin care

THERE are many places where experiment is safe. But not with the complexion. To endanger one's pretty skin is a folly.

Before Palmolive came women were told, "use no soap on your faces." For soaps then were judged too harsh.

Then came this famous beauty soap. A soap made by experts in skin care for one purpose only—to guard youth and charm. A soap made to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

It changed the beauty situation throughout the world. It supplanted artificial beauty methods by the score. World's authorities widely urge it. The thousands of pretty skins you see today are largely due to it.

Wash, launder, scrub, with any soap you wish; but when beauty is at stake, take care.

This simple daily rule to natural skin beauty

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish, but never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Get real Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

MODISH MITZI

Mitzi didn't see the Washington Monument. The Goofer led to show it to her, but just then a dress came by (worn by a woman) with the smartest treatment of pleats that Mitzi had ever seen. "Isn't it wonderful!" she murmured enthusiastically. "Which the Goofer could only reply, 'You're wonderful.' Let's look at something else!" "Wonder where she got it," wonders Mitzi, whose large, drooping hat doesn't seem to interfere with her vision—of fashions!

Mitzi Takes a Stroll With the Goofer.

Mitzi didn't see the Battle Monument, either. She nearly did. The Goofer led her right up to it and she was just about to look at it when she saw a dress. A dress of figured material with a most unusual bolero line made by a pleated ruffle. "I'd like to know," says Mitzi, "if that is voile or georgette." Then, "Poor dear, I'm not paying any attention to you, am I? Let's go somewhere and have tea!" It really seemed the only thing to do with Mitzi.

LEE HIGHWAY ROUTE WILL BE ANNOUNCED AT MEETING TONIGHT

Arlington County Delegation to Attend Boulevard Session in Capital.

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Amnesia Victim Believed to Be Former Resident of Clifton Forge.

ARLINGTON COUNTY
BUREAU OF THE POST,
Tel. Clar. 500. Clarendon, Va.

Formal announcement of the route selected for the proposed Lee highway will be made by Dr. S.
M. Johnson, general director of the Lee Highway association, at a meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in the Washington auditorium, in which Federal and Virginia State officials will participate.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover will preside at the meeting and introduce the speakers after a brief address by himself. The meeting will be preceded by a concert by the United States Marine band and selections by the band will inter-perse the program of addresses.
The program from 9 to 10 o'clock will be broadcast by WCAP.

Gov. Harry S. Byrd, of Virginia, and State Senator Ball will represent the Virginia State government among the speakers, while Senator Oddie will represent the legislative branch of the Federal government.
Announcement of the route selected will be made by Dr. Johnson as the last speaker. Considerable discussion has been aroused among residents of various sections of Arlington county over what has been rumored as the route selected, and a direct-to-the-bridge association has been formed by residents of Clarendon and other towns demanding a different route.

Just what route has been determined on has not been made public and considerable interest attaches to Dr. Johnson's announcement tonight. Members of the opposition association are said to be planning to attend the meeting.

Selection of the route of the new highway, Dr. Johnson said last night, can not be based on the desires of one or two towns in Arlington county, or in any other county through which the proposed 200-foot highway is to pass. The project is too big for determination on the basis of small interests, and must be considered from its major aspects, he said.

With the Clarendon community hall packed to its capacity last night, the organization of the association was perfected with the Straight-to-the-bridge Boulevard election of Arthur Orr, president;
C. Eugene Doyle, vice president;
Lawrence Michael, secretary;
Catherine M. Rogers, assistant secretary, and Dr. Frank T. Stone, treasurer.

Although the route of the proposed highway has not been announced formally by the Lee Highway association, the association went on record in resolutions that until the citizens of Arlington county have had a chance to be heard they were opposed to the selection of any route.

The highway, they declare, should be so selected that it will serve the greatest number of people. "Should the southern route be adopted strong protest will be voiced by the association," declared the president.

Mr. Orr stated that regardless of the location of the Lee boulevard by the Lee Highway association a direct approach to the bridge must be obtained, and that the association will work to that end.

"The central route has not had

TELLING TOMMY

the fair chance that other routes have had," declared Orr.

"A corporation was formed by the other side and every effort put forth to obtain the necessary right of way, which is at least 1 1/2 miles longer than what is known as the Taylor avenue route through Clarendon and Ballston. No effort, as far as I know, has been made to get a right of way through this section," he declared.

Resolutions were read from the Clarendon and Lyon Village Citizens associations opposing the so-called southern route and endorsing the action of the Straight-to-the-bridge Boulevard association.

The Arlington Citizens association, at a special meeting last night, unanimously endorsed the selection of the southern route for the Lee boulevard, which, it is understood, will be announced tonight at a public meeting at the Washington auditorium by the Lee Highway association.

The 150th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence and the presenting of the American flags by various organizations in Arlington county will be celebrated Sunday at the Washington-Lee High school, under the auspices of the Arlington County School Federation, J. Sterling Moran, former president, presiding. The program will be opened with a band concert by the United States Cavalry band, from Fort Myer, at 2:30 o'clock. The invocation will be given by the Rev. George G. Culbertson, pastor of the Ballston Presbyterian church.

State Senator Frank L. Ball will be the principal speaker. Other speakers will be Frank V. Sanderson, deputy State counselor, from Ballston, and Junior Order
American Mechanics.

Clifton Forge, Va., and a veteran of the world war.

According to press reports the man was found last Thursday in a comatose state on the sidewalk near a cemetery in Malden. At the hospital he told officials that the man at Malden hospital is Gorman.

operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, John

Mrs. Anna Feltman was elected noble grand, of Clarendon Rebekah lodge, No. 28, at the annual meeting and election of officers held in the Odd Fellows temple last night. Other ents, vice grand; Mrs. Margaret Myers, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Miller, mistress of robes, and Ira L. Brashears, degree director. The newly elected officers will be installed by Mrs. Mary O'Halloran, district deputy president, on the evening of July 12.

possession of a still, was fined $140.75 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended.

Victim of Amnesia Unaided by Operation

Malden, Mass., June 29 (By A.
P.).—John Patrick O'Gorman, of Clifton Station, Va., war veteran and sufferer from amnesia, rallied today from an operation performed last night to relieve pressure on his brain, but still failed to recall his life history.

O'Gorman, whose mind had been a blank since he was found lying in the street last Thursday, had a brief lucid interval yesterday during which he gave physicians at the Malden hospital his name and home address. A relapse soon afterward made necessary the operation.

Garage Man Charged With Manslaughter

Two warrants, each charging manslaughter, were served on Franklin Bicknell, garage owner of Bethesda, Md., when he appeared in police court in Rockville yesterday to answer a charge of reckless driving in connection with the death of Stanley P. Kelly and Walter Lee Sears, soldiers stationed at Fort Humphreys, who were killed when struck by an automobile driven by him June 19.

Bicknell was immediately arraigned before Judge Samuel Riggs. He waived a preliminary hearing and furnished bond for $5,000 to await action of the grand jury in November. Bicknell was responding to a call from an automobile when he struck the men. A coroner's jury deferred decision in the case.

Crazed Negro's Third Victim, Policeman, Dies

Baltimore, Md., June 29 (By A.
P.).—Patrolman Webster Schuman died today from the effects of a bullet from the pistol of Vance Lee, 35 years old, crazed negro, who, armed with a rifle and two revolvers, brought down nine persons before he was slain by police bullets.
Of Lee's remaining victims, Police Clerk Thomas Dillon is expected to die. He is paralyzed from a bullet in his spine. Two others also are reported in a serious condition.

The shooting started with a quarrel yesterday between Lee and Arthur Wells, another negro, whom Lee shot. He then procured a rifle and another revolver and started to terrorize the neighborhood. Five of those he shot were bystanders.

Whittimore Ruling Will Be Given July 8

Special to The Washington Post.
Annapolis, Md., June 29.—The Maryland court of appeals today suspended until July 8 its decision as to whether a new trial will be granted Richard Reese Whittim-ore, Baltimore bandit, convicted of the murder of Robert H. Holt-man, guard of the Maryland penitentiary, who was slain when Whittimore made his escape from that institution more than a year ago.

Arguments on the appeal were heard by the court yesterday. They were based entirely upon three exceptions to the procedure followed and ruling of Judge Eugene O'Dunne in the criminal court of Baltimore city, in selecting the jury that convicted Whittimore.

A Clean Sweep!

AMOCO-GAS and AMOCO Motor Oil

won all three races on the Laurel Speedway!

On Saturday afternoon, June 19th, three races were decided on the Baltimore-Washington Speedway at Laurel, Md.
And the combination of AMOCO-GAS and AMOCO Motor Oil won every race!

The 25-mile race was won by Thompson H.
Reed—using AMOCO-GAS and AMOCO Motor Oil.

The 50 and 100 mile races were won by James E. Gleason—using AMOCO-GAS and AMOCO Motor Oil.

A clean sweep of the day's program! Once more AMOCO-GAS gave a public demonstration of its quality—first on the speedway as it is first on the road. You may never drive at the speed which these daring drivers display. You may never subject your motor to the strain of a hundred miles at hundred-mile-an-hour speed.

But wherever you drive—and whenever you drive—at every Green Pump with the AMOCO Globe, you can get the same dependable motor fuel—first on the speedway, first in its field, first in sales and in performance.

Make it AMOCO all the way!

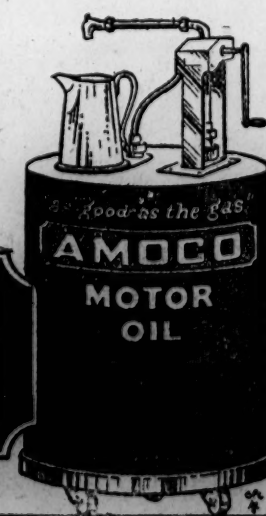

Drive on AMOCO-GAS—Run on AMOCO Motor Oil.

Tourists Back From Florida Bring Story of Wonderful Hair Remedy

Elderly People Spending Winter There Return With Hair Radiant, Full of Life and Luster and With All Their Gray Hair Gone.

Fountain of Youth for Gray-Haired Folks—Makes Them Look Young Again

The past winter down in Florida where the gray-haired idle rich loaf, golf and gossip in the sunshine, everybody has been talking about the wonderful hair and scalp remedy a certain Mrs. Lea, of Tampa, makes, which, if massaged into the scalp, starts old folks' gray, dull, streaked hair turning back to youthful luster, color and beauty.

WEALTHY USE IT.
"Mrs. Lea's Hair Tonic" was the subject of conversation on golf courses, beaches and verandas. It seemed like everyone was using it, and sure enough their hair would gradually change until all around folks were proudly displaying luxuriant youthful locks, and you couldn't help but note the decided improvement and the way it makes them all look years younger," declares one enthusiast.

MRS. LEA'S STORY.
"Several ladies who spend small fortunes yearly with their hair dressers wanted me to investigate Mrs. Lea's Tonic before they would risk using it even though friends already were doing so. I therefore hunted up Mrs. Lea and found her seated on her porch in Tampa. We became acquainted, and I was amazed to learn she is approaching 80 years of age.

"It seems a doctor from New England brought his invalid wife to Tampa years ago in search of health and rented rooms of Mrs. Lea. As months went by the doctor's money ran low and finally before his poor wife died his money was all gone.

and he was compelled to beg a loan or two from the kindly landlady, Mrs. Lea. Unable to pay her back —a sick man himself—the old doctor told Mrs. Lea he knew a secret which would make him rich, but out-of gratitude—and fearing he would die, he entrusted a written formula or prescription to her—not until she had solemnly promised, however, never to disclose it until he died.
Under penalty of forfeiting a bond which Mrs. Lea's grocer put up when the doctor insisted upon it.
Both grocer and Mrs. Lea thought the old doctor's mind was wandering through loss of his wife, but it seemed he had spent years searching for something that would stimulate, revive and start working again the dormant color glands of the human scalp which, when normal supply the pigment which gives color and luster to the hair. He ridiculed the use of dyes, tints and similar preparations. He believed if nature could be encouraged and stimulated to resume putting color and luster into the faded gray hair in a natural way, that in each user's case their hair would change from gray to the natural, original color. The formula he left to Mrs.
Lea was the final result of his research work along these lines, and contains nine different ingredients.

"Then the doctor died—Mrs. Lea, not long afterward, made up a few bottles for friends as an experiment, and to everyone's amazement it worked like magic. Tourists at the hotels heard about it—tried a bottle—took numbers of bottles home
—in amazement they told their friends—others told their hair dressers back home. Even the men began using it for it doesn't show, and the change is so gradual no one notifies it. Orders poured in to Mrs.

Lea from every State in the Union.
That was several years ago, and sales have increased until now Mrs.
Lea ships both from Tampa and from a plant in Brentwood, Md.

"Right out of the same bottle two people can use the tonic and one, if formerly red-headed, will return to red, and the other, if raven black or auburn, will return to black or auburn as the case may be, so if one liked the original and natural color of their hair they may easily have it back again.

"Everyone using it claims it not only brings a more healthy and rich tone to the hair, but it makes the hair grow more luxuriant and thick, even on the thin spots. If hair is already natural color now, no change occurs as proven when used on children's hair which is not affected at all in color."

STEEL GOES TO 141 3-8
WITH GENERAL ADVANCE

Scores New Peak Price; All Motor Shares Gain
Sharply.

RAILS STRONG; OILS LAG

Special to The Washington Post.
New York, June 29.—With United Steel common booming up to 141 3/8, its highest price for all time, and closing 2 1/2 net higher, although 1/4 under the list made virtually the whole steel market substantial upward progress in today's trading on the New York Stock Exchange. The loss of the quicken and the turnover approximated 1,375,000 shares.

While the premier industrial stock, whose old high record was 139 1/4, was thus making history, General Motors, which shares market leadership with Steel common, was advancing nearly 4 points to new high ground for the movement under concentrated demand and closed 3 1/2 net higher.

The impressive buying of those two standard industrial issues was the more significant because it took place in the face of relatively dear money, call loans renewing and running at 5 per cent, the highest reciprocal rate for standard industrial loans since April 13.

Their strength in those circumstances was interpreted as meaning that the interests who are sponsoring the bull campaign were determined not to permit prices to recede during the current period of firm money and preholiday dullness.

It was to be expected that the general market would advance sympathetically with steel leadership, and this price the case, with particular the higher grade industrials were bid up actively, with United States Cast Iron Pipe finishing 5 points up, Du Pont 4 1/4 higher, General Electric 1 1/2, American Smelting and Refining 2 1/2, and so on, and Westinghouse was not alone in its strength among the equipments, most of all which showed gains ranging from a point to 3 points or so.

The motor group followed along with General Motors, with the Dodge Bros. common and preferred, Mack Trucks, Willys-Overland and Pierce-Arrow and Fisher Body and others of the same case, and in stocks scoring sizeable gains in quite active dealings, although Studebaker and Hudson finished moderately lower on profit-taking sales.

Chemical shares came in at attention, with Virginia-Carolina new stock, Allied and Davison moving up in the wake of Commercial Solvents issues on earnings, or on reports of expansion plans.

Oils continued to lag behind the market and the rubber stocks did little, United States Rubber ending the day at a fractional recession.

Buying of the rails, either for investment account or because of persistent expectations continuing, persistent, although not on a large scale, Chesapeake and Ohio sold at a new record price and closed a point net higher, and Nickel Plate gained 1 1/4, while Southwest "merger" issues also were under active dealing, in addition, Atlantic Coast Line gained 2 1/4, and New York Central and Rock Island registered good advances.

Opinion was divided on the meaning of the rise in Steel common and General Motors, but the disposition was to believe that the discount in expected capitalization of assets rather than fall business activity.

There was an exception here and there to the upward trend, Case Threshing Machine, with a loss of 3 1/4, New York State Railways, Yale & Towne, Laclede Gas, Ward Baking preferred and a few more selling lower, but in none of these were offerings large.

The foreign exchange market continued irregular, with French francs yielding 2 points and Belgian francs 4 points, and Swiss francs and lire a point, but sterling was strong, pesetas gained 6 points, and Swedish and Danish kroner a point.

Stock Purchase Warrants

Each Bond will bear a detachable warrant giving the holder thereof to purchase Common Stock of the Company, at $15 per share, at any time prior to June 1, 1936, in the ratio of 25 shares for $1,000 principal amount of Bonds.

Mr. W. H. Tarvin, Gen'l. of the Company, summarizes his letter as follows:

Business: Kentucky Rock Asphalt Company owns and operates business formerly conducted by Kentucky Asphalt Company of Kentucky and is engaged in the quarrying, crushing and marketing of natural rock asphalt.

The Company's product, sold under the well-known trade-name of "Kyrock," is extensively used in surfacing streets, highways, rail-road-station platforms, factory floors. "Kyrock" has been approved as a standard surfacing material by the Federal Highway Commission and by state, county or authorities in 31 states.

Properties: The Company owns or has mineral rights on approximately 40,000 acres of land in Kentucky, mining extensive deposits of natural rock asphalt. Reports indicate that the properties contain practically proven supply sufficient for over ten years' operation and that unproven reserves are sufficient to last many years beyond the life of the bonds.

The Company owns a modern plant with a present annual capacity of approximately 250,000 tons. The present financing provides for additions to the Company and equipment sufficient to increase that capacity to 350,000 tons.

Security: These bonds are a direct obligation of the Company and in addition are secured by a first mortgage of its Fixed Assets now owned or hereafter.

The sound value of the plant, together with the proposed additions, and commensurate of the mineral rights, as appraised by Bacon

& Davis, Inc., as of May 11, 1926, total $3,196,231, equivalent to approximately $3,500 for each $1,000 Bond of this issue.

Assets: The Balance Sheet of the Company as of March 31, 1926, after giving effect to the financing and completion of additions to plant as certified by Messrs. Humphrey Robinson and Company, shows Total Net Assets of $5,773,922, equivalent to over $3,800 for each $1,000 Bond of this issue presently to be outstanding. The same Balance Sheet shows Current Assets of $518,720 as compared with Current Liabilities of $116,983 or a ratio of better than 4.4 to 1.

Earnings: For the three-year period ended December 31, 1925, Net Earnings of the predecessor company available for interest charges, depreciation and Federal Taxes, as certified to by Messrs. Humphrey Robinson and Company, were $1,244,826 or an annual average of $414,942. This is approximately 4¼ times maximum annual interest charges on the first mortgage bonds presently to be outstanding. During the calendar year of 1925 such earnings were over 4½ times such maximum annual interest charges.

Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., estimate that, as a result of the proposed increase in the Company's annual production and sales to 350,000 tons, Net Earnings available for bond interest, depreciation and Federal Taxes will be in excess of $800,000 per annum.

Sinking Fund: It is estimated that the sinking fund will retire all the bonds of this issue prior to maturity.

We offer these bonds for delivery when, and as accepted by us, subject to the approval of counsel. All legal details will be passed upon for the Company by Mr. H. N. Louisville, Kentucky, and by Mr. W. E. Norvell, Jr., of Nashville, Tennessee, for the bankers. All audits were made by Messrs. Robinson & Company, Louisville, Kentucky, and appraisals by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., New York, N. Y.

Salient features, as summarized by Mr. W. E. Leonard, President of the Corporation, from his letter:

History and Business: The Leonard, Fitzpatrick, Mueller Stores Co. operates under the name of "The L. F. M. Stores," a chain of eight popular price merchandise stores, on the cash and carry plan, in the following cities: Atlanta, Georgia; Macon, Georgia; Jacksonville, Florida; Tampa, Florida; Birmingham, Alabama; Montgomery, Alabama; and Mobile, Alabama. The business was established in Montgomery, Alabama, in April, 1916, with a paid-in capital of $42,000, operating one store. It has shown a substantial profit each year and has paid cash dividends since its inception in excess of $500,000.

In 1917 (the first full year of operation), the volume of business was $390,312.13, at a net profit of $33,352.76. In 1925, its volume was $4,527,726.53 and net profits, after all taxes and depreciation, were $321,293.82. The business for the first four months of 1926, both in volume and profit, is largely in excess of the same period for 1925.

Assets: Net Tangible Assets, as shown by the certified balance sheet as of April 30, 1926, after all depreciation and after giving effect to the new financing were $1,067,638.50, or over $164 per share for this Preferred Stock. Net Current Assets being $769,635.29 or over $118 per share for the Preferred Stock.

Sales and Earnings: Sales and earnings certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. (after allowance for depreciation and Federal Taxes) for the last three years were as follows:—

	Sales	Net Earnings	% Net Earnings to Sales	No. of Times Preferred Div. Requirement Earned
1923	$2,954,583.15	$193,195.49	6.53	3.71
1924	3,595,340.66	173,891.87	4.83	3.34
1925	4,527,726.53	321,293.82	7.09	6.17

Average net profits (after depreciation and Federal Taxes) for the three years ended December 31, 1925, were equal to over 4.4 times the annual dividend requirements on the $650,000 Preferred Stock and for 1925 were over 6.1 times this requirement. In the first four months of 1926 sales increased 38%, with estimated net profits in excess of 50% greater than in the corresponding period in 1925.

Common Stock Dividends: Since 1919, the Corporation's predecessor has paid uninterrupted cash dividends on its Common Stock and it is the expectation of the management that the Corporation's earnings will warrant the inauguration of cash dividends on the new Common Stock at the annual rate of $1.50 a share on the outstanding shares, beginning early in 1927.

Management and Control: The management and control will continue with those who have successfully built up this business. The present policy of conservatively adding new stores in the rapidly growing and prosperous cities of the South will be continued.

All legal details in connection with this issue will be passed upon by Messrs. Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft.

We offer this 8% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock and Common Stock of the corporation in units, if, as and when issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel.

Harris to Appeal Fine Levied for 'Stalling' at Philadelphia. Challenger Had Best of Milling Until the Knockout Punch.

The blow was a particularly hard one for the veteran outfielder, who only last week moved his family to Washington from his home in St. Louis. "I figured I was a fixture with the Nats and, if given a chance, am confident that I would have made good. However, I was started in but few games, and then only at intervals, and never really got started. But such is life."

This gives him an opportunity to sell his services, and he undoubtedly will be eagerly sought by some of the minor league outfits who, if he is used regularly, will get a mighty capable ball player.

"How badly we need one more capable pitcher is nobody's business," Manager Harris adamantly related in discussing his team's plight. "Don't ask me what my plans are, for I haven't any. With only seven pitchers and but three of them—Johnson, Coveleskie and Rutherford—listed as starters, I expect to have to do a lot of figuring and may be forced to use Fred Marberry to start one of the two games scheduled in New York on Thursday. From now on what do or don't do will have to depend on what happens on the previous one."

ALTHOUGH Harris is confident that Emilio Palmiero will help his team a whole lot, this view was not shared by many of the older players, who say that all he has to recommend him is a good slow ball and the fact that he is a southpaw. In their opinion, he will have to get better control and more of a zip for his fast one in order to make a successful moundman.

Willard Morrell, who for some time has been pestering Harris for a chance to start a game, will be given opportunity against the Red Sox here tomorrow. Bill, with but one or two exceptions, has done some good relief flinging for the Nats. He has considerable stuff and fairly good control and, with a little more experience which can be gained in actual competition, may prove to be a winning pitcher.

Pitching for East Douglas yesterday, Bullet Joe Bush shut out Worcester, 2 to 0. Rumor says that he is dickering with the Pittsburgh Pirates for a job.

Goose Goslin reported for today's game with a slight cold in his left wing. Trainer Martin worked on him for a while and finally rubbed the ache out and got Leon in condition to play.

Jimmy Fitzpatrick, Boston college captain and pitcher in 1914 and one of the few to lick Hooper Cross in the past few years, worked out with the Red Sox today and may be offered a contract shortly.

Dutch champion, Miss K. Beum, in a match, the first two sets which were fiercely contested. Mallory, however, won the third set quite easily. The score was 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Vincent Richards and Howard Kinsey defeated George Crook and Rees and C. H. Kingsley, the English pair, in the men's doubles 7-5, 3-6, 13-11, 7-5, while Miss Elizabeth Ryan and Miss Mary Browne won the honors in the doubles with a victory over Mrs. Lambert Chambers and Miss Harcourt.

Kinsey had already carried the American flag to the semifinals of the men's singles. Richards and Miss Ryan went into the third round of the mixed doubles and secured their victory over B. Meyer and Mrs. Shepherd-Barron. 6—4. 6—took the fourth round by a fairly comfortable margin. But apparently this was all part of the shrewd campaign mapped out by the champion.

A meeting of the Government league will be held tonight at the government printing office at 8 o'clock. An umpire will be elected to finish the season in the circle.

When the fifth round started Willie, who figured he was well on his way at least to a popular decision victory, and let a quick opening for Latzo's quickly right.

The end came quickly then and quite unexpectedly. Harmon was on the aggressive and kept Pete's head bobbing back with straight punches. Latzo felt with a left hook and whipped over that tell-tale right to Willie's unprotected jaw.

The Eastsider dropped as though he had been hit by a blackjack and remained down on the canvas while Referee Henry Lewis tolled off the ten-second count.

New York, June 29. — Maxey Rosenberg, of Harlem, proved his earlier victory over Dave Shade was no fluke by taking the measure of the Californian in the feature bout of 12 rounds at the Queensboro stadium tonight before 10,000 fans. The decision was well merited, Rosey having the better of six rounds and two being even. Rosenberg weighed 164; Shade, 155. Referee, Tommy Sheridan.

ALUMNI OF HOWARD TO CONTINUE FIGHT

Urge Trustees, Meeting Today, Not to Choose President of Durkee Type.

Acting on information that the executive committee of the board of trustees of Howard university would choose a president for that institution at its meeting today, gained from a report of a special committee of investigation, the members of the executive committee of the general alumni association of the university met last night at 809 Florida avenue and adopted resolutions in opposition to any selection which might be construed as a continuation of the Durkee administration there.

Development of a new program of publicity and of mass meetings was voted to begin at once if a president is elected or a committee chosen to operate the university in the interim, whose composition might indicate that the policies of Dr. J. Stanley Durkee, retiring president, were to remain in force temporarily or permanently. The committee indicated its intention to fight any university control made up of members of the present administrative cabinet.

The resolutions recited a "prolonged state of unrest and demoralization, destructive of the foundations of the university," and a "chaotic condition due to petty politics of the body of control," and called on the board of trustees to take cognizance of strong feeling among the alumni relative to the matters which were under consideration.

ACCOUNTANT PLANS CONFERENCE TODAY WITH COAL DEALERS

Treasury Official Will Report to Senate on Decision Over Books.

AGREEMENT LIKELY IN INQUIRY ON PRICES

Committee Threatens Prosecutions if Merchants Refuse Necessary Data.

The Senate District committee, which is investigating charges that local coal dealers were guilty of profiteering last winter, will know today whether the dealers are willing to submit information concerning their accounts which government accountants regard as sufficient upon which to base a report.

H. A. A. Smith, the Treasury accountant who is assisting the Senate committee, will hold another conference this morning with Roger J. Whitford, counsel for the dealers, and accountants employed by the dealers.

At the conclusion of this conference, Mr. Smith will notify the Senate committee whether the dealers are willing to give him and his associates the information which they think necessary to determine if coal prices here were reasonable or excessive.

Agreement Likely.

A two-hour conference was held between the two groups yesterday, but no decision was reached. It was learned, however, that the prospects for an amicable agreement were reasonably good.

Mr. Whitford said after the conference that they had gone into the matter thoroughly, but that there were some points which they wanted to revolve in their minds over night. Therefore, he said, it was decided to hold another conference this morning.

The conference was decided on after Mr. Whitford, appearing at a stormy session of the Senate committee, had announced that the coal dealers would refuse to produce their books.

To Act on Refusal.

Should the dealers and Mr. Smith be unable to get together, the committee plans to take action on the refusal Monday of the dealers to comply with the subpoenas. The negative returns on the subpoenas were held in abeyance merely pending the outcome of the conference between Mr. Smith and the dealers.

It is the plan of the committee, if no agreement results, to have the Senate certify the record to the district attorney for prosecution under cited laws relating to refusal to respond to a congressional committee.
